Mystery In Cause Of Ship Flooding—Was To Sail For British Isles

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, March 21.—Fears that a badly-flooded 27,000-ton cargo liner, the Panamanian, might sink at her pier were alleviated today when Fred Kipp, Baltimore harbor engineer, announced that the stern was resting on bottom and the vessel probably could be righted.

Slated to sail late tonight, the ship was discovered early today to be sinking, her engine rooms completely flooded, and her dynamos badly damaged by water which had mysteriously poured in through her side in the night, Kipp said.

The harbor engineer asserted that cause of the flooding had not been determined and could not be until divers had been sent below. After making an inspection trip around the vessel and after questioning crew members, Kipp said that the ship either had a mysterious hole in her side, or else a valve or port hole below the water line had been inadvertantly opened by one of the Filipino crew.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Residents of North Beaver and North Jefferson streets are aroused over acts of vandalism which are being committed in their neighborhood. They claim that several lots, across from the old Shenango Valley hospital have been turned into a public dump and that tin cans and debris are being dumped on the lots. In addition, this week, boys destroyed several fine trees on the property by girdling them with an ax.

During Wednesday, the high wind scattered seeds of Catalpa trees quite thickly over the lawns of the Croton district. Despite the wind there were a few trees almost intact. These Indian beans or "stogies" which contain the seeds, have been hanging on slender branches throughout all the stormy weather of winter, and nature has arranged that they should remain there until their falling in Spring, when the ground is ready for their propagation.

Good Friday will be appropriately observed throughout the city tomorrow. In a number of churches three-hour services have been arranged, and the day will be observed as a holiday in a number of business circles.

Queen Mary Departs From New York Harbor On Mystery War Trip

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 21.—Camouflaged under a coat of hastily applied dull gray paint and her interior transformed into a vast dormitory, the Queen Mary, once empress of the British Merchant Marine, followed her smaller sister ship, the Mauretania, out to sea today for new war-time duty as a troop ship.

The 81,000-ton Queen Mary, third largest merchantman afloat, pulled away from its pier at 8:20 a. m. when tugboats hauled the sister ship of the unfinished Queen Elizabeth, which zig-zagged across the Atlantic to sanctuary in New York harbor recently, from its pier a brilliant sun played upon its battleship appearance.

Mauretania First

The 35,000-ton Mauretania cut her mooring lines at 8 p. m. last night and put out to sea in a driving rainstorm. She was blacked out save for her essential running lights and moved down the Hudson river like a wraith.

It was believed both the Queen Mary and the Mauretania were under sealed orders that would be

Foreign Plane Orders Delay Army Purchases

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Actual delay in army purchase of fighting airplanes as a result of huge foreign orders received by American manufacturers was disclosed officially for the first time today by Chairman Andrew J. May (D) Kentucky of the house military affairs committee.

At the same time, May disclosed that the army program of 5,500 planes by June 30, 1940, will not be affected—and that the present delay means that the army will get better planes later on.

"The army has delayed some purchases of planes for the expansion program," said Chairman May. "They will, however, get them when they need them.

"The huge expansion of American airplane factories made possible by sales of planes abroad will enable the army to get its planes whenever it wants them. And they will be better planes than are being made now.

"The army can, if it desires, delay purchases until next year. The expanded factories then can produce all the planes needed for the program in a few months."

May's committee is scheduled, next Monday, to hear Secretary of War Woodring and high ranking army officers explain whether sales of planes to the allies is hampering the big airplane expansion program authorized by congress last year.

Seek Identity Of Three Men Dead In Truck

Believe Carbon Monoxide Fumes Took Lives Of Men Near Du Bois

(International News Service)

DU BOIS, Pa., March 21—Police sought today to establish the identity of three men who were found dead in a truck parked near a busy intersection of the Pittsburgh-Lakes-To-The-Sea highway one and a half miles south of here.

Coroner Dr. Elmo Erhard blamed carbon monoxide for the tragedy. He expressed belief the three men had pulled off to the side of the road to take a nap and were overcome. The ignition on the battery was dead and the gas tank was dry when checked.

State police identified the trio as apple peddlers who were in Philipsburg Monday.

One man, aged about 50, possessed a car owners card made out in the name of William Clayton, of Alum Bank, Bedford county. He was believed to have been the driver. No identification was found on the other two men, approximately 20 and 23 years of age.

The coroner said the men had been dead nearly two days.

Edward Hack, a telephone company employe, found the bodies when he became curious about the parked truck.

Dr. Heaton Will Leave April 30

Decision On Resignation Is Presented At Meeting Last Night

WILL ACCEPT CALL TO NEW KENSINGTON

At a special meeting of the First Baptist church, Wednesday evening, the pastor, Dr. C. H. Heaton, gave his final decision to resign from the local pastorate to take effect April 30, 1940. It was with regret, the motion, was passed to accept the resignation.

Dr. Heaton has accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church, New Kensington. The call was unanimously recommended by the pulpit committee, and the official board of that church, and after the first ballot was made unanimous by the vote of the congregation. While this church is not as strong numerically as the New Castle church, it has a very good plant, and an excellent parsonage.

Wednesday evening, a week ago, Dr. Heaton, presented his resignation to the official board of the local church, and the board requested the pastor to withold his resignation, hence the final decision of last evening.

At the meeting, a motion was passed "that the church expresses its love and appreciation to Dr. Heaton and Mrs. Heaton, for their splendid spiritual guidance and sound Bible teaching while in our midst, and that we consider their pastorate a very successful one in every sense of the word, and we wish them God speed in their new field of service to which they have been called".

It was decided that a pulpit committee would be elected in two weeks, on Wednesday evening, April 3, to take care of pulpit supplies, and aid in the selection of a new pastor.

Farley Appears As Opponent Of Third Term

Announces He Is Unconditional Candidate For Democratic Nomination

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Postmaster General James A. Farley today appears to have joined Vice President John Nance Garner in public opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt.

This was the interpretation placed by many Democratic leaders on the Farley announcement that he is an unconditional candidate for the Democratic nomination for president. This interpretation, however, was not unanimously supported, some Democratic leaders believing:

1. Farley has learned definitely that President Roosevelt will not seek a third term and is merely taking advantage of that knowledge to announce his own candidacy.

2. Farley has learned the president is still undecided about a third term and announced his own candidacy because of the presidential uncertainty, but will support Mr. Roosevelt if the latter seeks a third term.

Belief that Farley intended to have his statement interpreted as opposition to a third term is based largely on what the postmaster general has told his friends privately. Time and again, he has said he is opposed to a third term and would make his opposition known publicly at the right time.

Another significant angle is that Farley declared his name would go before the Democratic convention "and that's that," in reply to a question as to whether he was merely a "stalking horse for a third term for the president." It appeared that Farley went to pains to deny the stalking-horse interpretation.

Mrs. Callahan Is Taken To Hospital

Woman, Expected To Be Mother Of Quintuplets, Taken To Miami, Florida

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., March 21.—Blonde, slender Mrs. Emory Callahan, 22, who is expected to become the mother of quintuplets in May, today was in a Miami hospital to await the astounding event.

Mrs. Callahan was taken from the small bungalow howe which she and her husband shared with two other couples to the hospital last night, and it was learned today that she had spent a somewhat restless night, due to the strange surroundings.

The young woman, who eloped less than a year ago with a struggling young mechanic and who thinks 12 children would compose the ideal family, had received no special care until X-rays revealed that she probably will become the mother of, not one, but five babies at once.

Britain Denies German Claim

Says Only Three Small Neutral Vessels Damaged By German Attack

NAZI PLANES MAKE RAID ON CONVOY

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 21.—Only three small neutral vessels suffered damages in a German aerial attack on a British convoy in the North sea, the British admiralty insisted today.

(A German radio broadcast from Berlin claimed the Reich planes sank nine British warships and merchant vessels, severely damaged two other merchant ships and shot down a British plane.)

The Nazi raid on the convoy was carried out in swift reprisal for the terrific British attack on the German air and naval base at Sylt, in which, it was stated, bombs dropped by the British planes wrought extensive damage.

The British raid on Sylt was carried out to avenge Saturday's German attack upon Scapa Flow, and thus it began to appear as if the war were developing into a retaliatory blow-for-blow conflict.

Admiralty Communique

The admiralty communique stated:

"Enemy aircraft attacked a convoy off the Scottish coast. Escorting warships engaged the enemy and royal air force patrols went into action. Two British planes attacked and dispersed ten Heinkels.

Chamberlain To Consider Some Cabinet Changes

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 21.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain will consider reconstruction of his cabinet during the parliamentary Easter recess which begins tonight, London political circles indicated today.

These quarters felt Chamberlain may establish a smaller war cabinet in line with what appears to be a new policy—"war of action."

Should he do so, it was stated, the chosen ministers would be completely free from routine departmental duties and able to concentrate all their energies daily upon directing the conduct of the war.

At the same time, it was predicted, Chamberlain may take advantage of such a cabinet reshuffling to strengthen his full cabinet with inclusion of new names and elimination of several ministers who have been under heavy criticism recently.

German High Command Claims Nine Ships Sunk

(International News Service)

BERLIN, March 21.—Nine warships and merchantmen were sunk when German warplanes attacked a British naval convoy in the North sea yesterday, the German high command announced today.

A communique stated that two more vessels were damaged severely and that a British plane had been shot down during the raid. One German plane is missing.

The communique also asserted that three British planes were lost during the attack against the German island of Sylt, instead of one as previously reported.

"There was local scouting and artillery activity between the Moselle river and Palatinate forest on the western front," the communique stated.

"The German air force successfully attacked and dispersed an enemy convoy strongly guarded by cruisers and destroyers. It also attacked one armed merchantman in the English channel.

"The German planes sank nine merchantmen and warships totaling about 42,000 tons and severely damaged two more aggregating 11,000 tons. One enemy plane was shot down in an air battle. One German plane is missing.

"Yesterday morning our anti-aircraft batteries repulsed some British scouters reconnoitering near the eastern and northern Frigian islands.

"The British lost three planes in the action at Sylt."

Morgenthau Says New Taxes Must Be Applied For Revenue

Income Tax Payments Are Higher Than Year Ago Early Reports Show

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Although income tax payments are running nearly 25 per cent more than a year ago, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau today reaffirmed President Roosevelt's estimate that new taxes must be applied to raise $460,000,000 additional revenue for national defense.

At the same time Morgenthau said critics are "making a mountain out of a mole hill" in trying to keep the debt limit at $45,000,000,000 and called upon congress to raise the present legal ceiling.

Personally, he said, he saw no harm if the maximum was raised to 50 billion.

Morgenthau's statements, at a press conference, followed advices from various internal revenue offices showing income tax receipts between March 1 and March 20 amounted to $621,000,000. During the same period in 1939 income taxes were $473,000,000.

FINANCIAL WIZARD NEW PRIME MINISTER

Daladier Present At Meeting And May Be Member Of New Cabinet

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PARIS, March 21.—Retaining Edouard Daladier as minister of war and national defense, Paul Reynaud formed a new French cabinet today, taking for himself the posts of premier and minister of foreign affairs.

The new government, established for the single purpose of speeding up prosecution of the war against Nazi Germany, consists of 22 ministers and 12 under-secretaries.

By KENNETH DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 21.—Paul Reynaud, dapper 62-year-old wizard of international finance, today formed a new French cabinet to succeed the ministry of Edouard Daladier.

Announcement of Premier Reynaud's success in lining up a fresh and workable ministry to speed up and "actionize" France's war against Nazi Germany was made late this afternoon soon after his arrival at the Elysee Palace with his cabinet officers.

The members of the new ministry which now will carry on the war were presented to President Lebrun.

President Satisfied

After interviewing each new cabinet member, President Lebrun expressed himself satisfied with Reynaud's choices and officially announced acceptance of the ministry.

Reynaud's cabinet was constituted in such a way as to embrace a streamlined five-man "inner war" cabinet consisting of the premier and the minsters of war, navy, air and armaments.

Among those present at the Elysee was Daladier, leading to belief that he may have agreed to participation in the cabinet.

It was understood that the delicate post of minister of the interior, successively refused by Georges Mandel, Cesar Campinchi and others, had finally been given to Senator Henri Roy.

Molotov Expected To Visit Berlin

Long-Deferred Trip Is Likely

Berlin Reports Indicate New Russo-German Discussions Soon

NEW DEVELOPMENTS ARE ANTICIPATED

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, March 21.—In a move which will speed the pace of Europe's already rushing events, Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov probably will visit Berlin before Easter, it was anticipated today.

When this long-deferred but frequently predicted visit occurs, Chancellor Hitler for the first time will meet Moscow's "key man" and shake hands with the figure whom Berlin regards as Dictator Josef Stalin's foremost envoy.

Silent On Prospects

German official circles remained silent regarding prospects of Molotov's visit, but it was an open secret that Alexander Schkvarzev, Soviet ambassador to Berlin, is expected to return to the German capital by Saturday at the latest. The envoy left unexpectedly for Moscow last night.

And when he does return, it was believed, he will be riding in Hitler's private airplane, the Grenzmark, accompanied by Molotov.

Presence of Molotov in Berlin undoubtedly will be the signal for comprehensive discussions on the European situation between Hitler and the Moscow diplomat on a basis of Russo-German friendship and the decisions reached by Hitler and Premier Mussolini in their conference at the Brenner Pass.

QUEEN MARY DEPARTS FROM NEW YORK ON MYSTERY WAR TRIP

opened only when they were safely at sea. Waterfront rumor was that the boats were destined to carry troops from Australia to the near east or from Canada to the Western front.

Both ships were stripped of their luxurious trappings that once thrilled trans-Atlantic passengers. Costly furniture, expensive rugs, pictures and other furnishings were removed and stored in warehouses. Both vessels were provisioned with hundreds of tons of "bully beef" or tinned meat and other foodstuffs.

Huge Floating Dormitories

It was believed that the designers of the Queen Mary and the Mauretania had copied a trick from the Germans and constructed the vessels with bolted cabin partitions instead of permanently constructed walls. These bolted partitions can be quickly unscrewed, transforming the interiors of the vessels into huge floating dormitories.

The Mauretania mounted two three-inch anti-aircraft guns on the aft end of the promenade deck and a six-inch cannon astern, thus making her a naval vessel subject to unconditional attack in the eyes of the Nazis. The Queen Mary carries no armament and relies mainly upon speed to elude submarines although she may go from here to Halifax to be outfitted with guns against warplanes.

The Queen Mary is too large to pass through the Panama Canal and if she is enroute to Australia will be forced to make a round-about voyage around the Cape of Good Hope or Cape Horn. The Mauretania can make the canal.

ships were sunk or severely damaged. Actually, no damage or casualties occurred on his majesty's ships or aircraft. Three small neutral vessels suffered damage."

According to the announcement, the neutral vessels damaged by the German raiders were the 1,267-ton Norwegian steamer Svinta, the Swedish freighter Utklippan, 1,599 tons, which was hit by an incendiary bomb, and the tiny 221-ton Norwegian vessel Tora Elise. The Svinta was abandoned by its crew, all of whom were rescued.

British authorities claimed that one German Heinkel was damaged by anti-aircraft fire and that several other German planes were hit by bullets from the two British planes.

At the same time it was revealed two more Danish vessels had fallen victim to the war. These were the 2,109-ton Bothal and the 1,153-ton Viking, which struck mines and sank yesterday.

Seven survivors from the two vessels were taken to a Scottish port.

The London Daily Herald reported that scores of German seaplanes and bombers were destroyed during the British raids on Sylt, which it said were planned to occur when German plane concentrations on the island were at a maximum.

SHIP STARTS TO SINK AT PIER AT BALTIMORE

two years by Chancellor Hitler after Germany had confiscated all his vessels.

When the flooded condition was discovered, the ship was being loaded at Pier 3, Locust Point, preparatory to sailing for the British Isles.

"The vessel has a list of 10 degrees, her stern is on bottom, her engine rooms are completely flooded and the dynamos are so badly damaged that she cannot possibly sail even if she can be pumped," Kipp said.

Seek Cause

Two maritime surveyors, William B. Mitchell and William M. Stein, went aboard in the forenoon in an effort to determine what was causing the vessel to ship water. Although rumors of sabotage spread over the waterfront, Kipp said that they could neither be confirmed nor denied until the divers had gone down, determined the cause and stopped the leak.

Fire Chief Howard Travers sped to the Locust Point dock where the Panamanian was loading and, after a quick survey, announced that the ship was going down at the rate of about a foot an hour. Loading at the Locust Point dock virtually had been completed, and the vessel had been scheduled to proceed to a deeper anchorage to complete taking on cargo.

Travers said that, if sailors on board the ship attempting to stem the leak were unsuccessful, a fireboat would bring hoses into play to pump the water out and at least hold down the level of water in the vessel's hull.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Jane Rutter, and by one son, Louis Rutter, of Wurtemburg.

The body is at the Glenn funeral home in Prospect, where friends may call. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Camp Run Free Methodist church with Rev. D. N. Thomas in charge.

Burial will be in the Methodist cemetery, Middle Lancaster, Pa.

Mrs. Eric Ericson

Mrs. Olivia Ericson, aged 57, of 220 Northview avenue, died in the New Castle hospital, at 5:40 p. m. Wednesday, following an illness of five weeks' duration. Mrs. Ericson was admitted to the hospital on March 13.

Besides her husband, Eric A. Ericson, she is survived by two sons, Gunnar and Ernest, both of Erie. Two sisters, Mrs. Arron Palmquist, Johnsonburg, Pa., and Mrs. John Nelson, New Castle, survive, as do several sisters and brothers and Mrs. Ericson's mother in Sweden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ericson came to New Castle from Erie, three years ago, and took up residence on Northview avenue.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. from Nelson's funeral home, 21st and Myrtle streets, Erie. Rev. Karl E. Zetterholm, pastor of the Erie Bethany Lutheran church will be in charge, and interment will be in Laurel Hill cemetery, Erie.

William S. Park

William S. Park, aged 75 years, a resident of 917 Winslow avenue, died Wednesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock in Jameson Memorial hospital following an illness of three months. He had been confined to the hospital for the past two weeks and a half.

Mr. Park was born in Lawrence county on February 2, 1865, the son of William and Catherine Shoaff Park. For 35 years Mr. Park was employed at the steel mill, retiring on a pension a short while before the mill closed. He was a faithful member of the Central Christian church. Preceding Mr. Clark in death was his wife, Ella.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. William Kinney of Youngstown, Warren Park of Pittsburgh, George Park of Zelienople. He leaves two brothers, Lee Park of Cleveland, and Charles Park of New Castle, and five sisters: Mrs. Ella Smith, Mrs. Florence Hogue, Mrs. Mary Hogue, Mrs. Rose Kelly and Mrs. Margaret Houk, all of New Castle, and four grandchildren.

The body has been removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland and winter, where friends may call, and from where services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of Central Christian church, in charge. Interment will follow in Savannah cemetery.

Members of the family will receive friends and relatives at the funeral home this evening and Friday evening from seven to nine o'clock.

Mrs. Douglass' Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Sarah Jane Douglass of Scott township were conducted from the Harlansburg Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

Rev. Leonard Matthewson officiated. Raymond Bell, accompanied at the piano by his wife, sang "In the Upper Garden" and "Lead Kindly Light", favorite hymns of the deceased.

Pallbearers were grandsons: Milton Campbell, Harold Campbell, Homer Campbell, Robert Sickafuse, Harold Alborn and Reo English.

Interment was in the Harlansburg cemetery.

J. Buxton Funeral Change

Funeral services for the late James Buxton will be held from the residence at 1001 Croton avenue, Friday afternoon at 3:30, instead of at 1:30 as previously announced. Rev. J. A. Cousins will officiate.

Welker Carter Funeral

Funeral services for Welker Carter, well-known resident of New Wilmington, were conducted from the residence, 219 North Market street, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Rev. J. B. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist church of New Wilmington, of which Mr. Carter was a member, was in charge of the services. He was assisted by Rev. S. A. Kirkbride, also of New Wilmington.

Pallbearers were Ben Kaufmann, James Crawford, George Robison, Austin Miller, James C. Ramsey and Clyde Lamb.

Interment was made in Carpenter's cemetery, near Mercer.

Indicate Permit Will Be Given For Mill St. Driveway

City council in meeting today indicated a permit would be issued to J. Clyde Gilfillan for the construcion of a driveway at 25 North Mill street. The Shaw property is to be remodelled and the firm which will do business there requires a driveway which will run west to Apple way.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop refused the permit because of traffic conditions, he reported to council. Mayor Charles B. Mayne said that, in his opinion, a driveway could not be refused a property owner.

Other councilmen felt similarly and it was indicated that the permit will be granted and the work shall be done under the supervision of the city engineering department.

Washabaugh-Bradley Wedding In Westminster Chapel Today

Early this afternoon, before a candle-lit altar of greens and Easter lilies, Mary Elizabeth Washabaugh became the bride of Frederick Withrow Bradley in the chapel of Westminster College, the occasion being of wide interest to many here and surrounding vicinities, due to the prominence of the principals. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland Washabaugh of New Wilmington, formerly of Mt. Lebanon, and Mr. Bradley is the son of Mrs. Clinton Sumner Bradley of Philadelphia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a bouffant white tulle gown, styled with a V neckline, made with full skirt and long train. Her veil of tulle, also entrain, fell from a coronet of seed pearls, and she wore a strand of pearls as her only jewelry. She carried an arm bouquet of Easter lilies and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Randall Stout, of Erie, the former Alice Stevenson from Mt. Lebanon, served as matron of honor, and she wore a pale pink net gown, fashioned with a full skirt and puffed sleeves. Her lace mitts matched, and adorning her head was a butterfly bow of pink net. She carried sweetheart roses and delphinium.

Bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Jean Bamford and Miss Mary Louise Cheeseman of Mt. Lebanon and Miss Ailene Pleister, a former college roommate of the bride, from Macedonia, O. They were attired in gowns similar to that worn by Mrs. Stout, and carried identical arm clusters of flowers. Butterfly bows of French blue net, completed their ensembles.

The bride's mother selected an aqua chiffon gown made with a tra-punta jacket, complimented with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother chose a periwinkle blue gown with navy accessories. Her corsage was of violets and gardenias.

Eugene M. Kaney of Pittsburgh, served as best man to Mr. Bradley, while ushering were Philip Gundelfinger, Jr., of Coraopolis Heights and the bride's brothers, Grover Cleveland Washabaugh, Jr., Robert Widdup Washabaugh and Dr George Ray Vilsack of Pittsburgh.

Pronouncing the service were Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president of Westminster College, and Dr. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding reception took place at the New Castle Field club. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley left for a motor trip to White Sulphur Springs, West Va. They will take up residence at 46 Florence Place, Mt. Lebanon.

The couple have been entertained at a series of pre-nuptial parties. Miss Mary Louise Cheeseman was hostess at a buffet supper at her home, as was Miss Alice Lewis, a fraternity sister of Mrs. Bradley and Miss Peggy Jean Bamford, each entertaining at a shower in her honor. Mrs. Randall Stout was hostess at the rehearsal last evening.

Mrs. Bradley attended Westminster College, and is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Bradley graduated from Shady Side Academy and the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

KIRKPATRICKS TO TAKE UP VOLANT RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick nee Dora Packer, plan on taking up residence at the home of the bride's father, Robert Orrie Packer, of Volant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kirkpatrick of Euclid avenue.

The couple was united on February 24, in the Presbyterian parsonage of Brookville with the Rev. B. N. Shoemaker, officiating with the single ring service. They were unattended. Due to serious illness in the family, wedding plans which had been made, were cancelled, and the event quietly celebrated.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was graduated from Kane High school with the class of '35 and Mr. Kirkpatrick was graduated from New Castle High in '34 and from Westminster College, in the year of '38. He is now affiliated with the Hydril Company of Rochester.

CLUBS HAVE TUREEN DINNER WEDNESDAY

Miss Alice McGinley of Wilkes Barre, state girls supervisor, was a special guest at the tureen dinner given for members of the Juniors of W. B. A. Review, No. 98, and W. W. W. Girls in the Dames of Malta hall, East Washington street, Wednesday evening. There were 43 in attendance.

Miss McGinley gave an interesting talk on the girls convention which will be held at the Fort Pitt Hotel, Pittsburgh, on May 24. She also gave each of the girls a "pen pal", a member of a Girls' club from some other town and state.

Other special guests were Miss Jessie Harper, Review president,, Mrs. Nell Knox, special deputy, Mrs. Ethel Thomas, Mrs. Frank Patterson, Mrs. Anna Stephenson, Mrs. Rebecca McKissick, Susanna Kosola, Shirley Panella and Joan Cuscino. Roberta Linton was welcomed into the group as a new member.

A delegate will be elected to represent the W. W. W. Girls club in Pittsburgh when they meet in Malta hall on Wednesday evening, April 3.

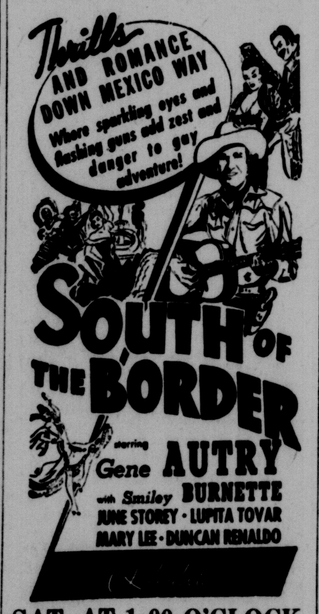

The committee in charge of the dinner included Mrs. Helen McGinley, Mrs. Mae Earls, Mrs. Nell Knox and Miss Katharine Flynn.

CATHEDRAL CHOIR PLANS FOR SOCIAL

SPEED OF MOTORISTS

THE Travelers' Insurance Company has compiled a booklet entitled "Smash Hits of the Year," in which it makes certain interesting and vital deductions. It declares, among other things, that the greatest single contributing factor to highway fatalities is speed.

Not alone speeding beyond the legal limit—but too fast driving for existing conditions—the speeding on several streets in this city for example.

Specificially, it finds that in 1939 when 32,100 persons were killed in highway accidents, speeding beyond the legal limit caused one out of every three deaths; driving too fast for existing conditions caused nine out of every ten deaths.

Thousands of motorists were sent to a horrible death because someone was in too much of a hurry—whether he was driving 60 on the open road or 35 in a congested area.

Hurry, hurry, hurry! Pass another car on a hill or curve; to beat a red light; cutting in and out a line of moving traffic. They're all familiar antics.

Obviously, somehow, something will have to be done to save the speeder from himself—and others from his recklessness.

We can't understand why all agencies concerned with automobile safety do not operate on the theory that they are doing the careless driver a distinct service when they stop him before his own folly takes him off the road for all time.

SELF-SEALING TANKS

No recent addition to the airplane exceeds in interest the protection put around its fuel tanks to preserve them from gun-fire.

Last fall a German pilot, desperately wounded, brought his plane down in Scotland. It was a crash landing but the tank was discovered to be intact when the British captors examined the craft. The tank had thirty bullet holes in it and yet forty-eight hours after that landing it still contained eighty gallons of gasoline. It was found that the tank consisted of a thin fiber case braced with ribs and surrounded by layers of crude rubber and duckskin which swelled when punctured, closing the bullet holes.

The British had been losing planes in North Sea forays through punctured tanks. At once both the British and French began equipping their planes with these self-sealing tanks found in that German plane.

All planes now built in the United States for Allied use are reported to be similarly equipped, despite the increased weight of the equipment and consequent lessening of combat efficiency, especially in range.

At the same time a tendency is developing to protect other parts of fighting aircraft with armor, and the war plane is becoming actually a battleship of the air.

CHANGING STREET NAMES

The Paris suburb of Suresnes has changed the name of Rue du Mont Valerien to Avenue Franklin D. Roosevelt. No development of the present war should cause Mr. Roosevelt greater concern.

Was there not a time when streets, boulevards, avenues and squares throughout Europe lost their former names to be redesignated in honor of Woodrow Wilson? And what happened? When the United States withdrew into its traditional isolation, the names of most of those Wilson streets were changed back.

This business of changing street names recalls to mind what happened once in an internationalized town in Northern Africa. A beautiful new street was constructed, but a dispute arose as to its name. The English consul wanted it named Shakespeare street, the French insisted on Rue Voltaire. The Dutch consul, all for peace, suggested a compromose—Adam street. Was not Adam the father of them all?

The suggestion was accepted, the consuls donned their cocked hats and marched out to affix a plaque. Upon arriving a large sign confronted them. The sign read "Via Garibaldi." The Italians had been there first.

THE COST OF DESTRUCTION

The cost of war is seldom reckoned when nations wish to fight.

Here is something on the cost of the World War.

According to the Congressional Records, the money the World War cost could have given every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia a $2,500 house furnished with $1,000 worth of furniture, placed on five acres of land worth $100 per acre.

There would still have been enough money left over to give each city of 200,000 inhabitants and over in these countries a $5,000,000 library, a $5,000,000 hospital, and a $10,000,000 university.

Then, out of the balance, there would still have been enough money to have set aside a sum at 5 per cent interest which would have paid for all time to come at $1,000 yearly salary to 125,0000 teachers and 125,000 nurses.

Despite all of the great cost of the war of a quarter a century ago the world is again at it, wasting, destroying and demoralizing.

If the nations of Europe were poor when the war started where will they be when it is over?

It is the truth that no war has ever been won.

Its cost in human and material things is too great for anyone to pay and, perhaps, too great for civilization to withstand.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

COURTING CONCENTRATION

IN ALMOST any group of parents during an open forum, the question comes: "How may I teach my child to concentrate?" Generally it relates to a child from eight to 12.

The question almost gives me a feeling of despair because I feel so helpless in trying to answer it in a few words. The question is so general and so vague; no one can answer it with finality.

In the first place, concentration, or the lack of it, is tied up with a whole lifetime of habits. It is not a specific something we can attack like we do swearing, playing with matches, or failing to say "Thank you." It consists of countless attitudes and habits. We don't teach concentration as we teach the spelling of biscuit, learning by heart "The Psalm of Life" or naming the leading cities of China.

Your child or mine grows in ability to concentrate as he succeeds in paying strict attention to one specific item of activity, then another, and another, and so on. Each victory will help him to win another one.

When we, as parents or teachers, wish to train the child to concentrate, our task is about as follows: Turn him to things to learn or do that he can learn or do well, but which will challenge his efforts. Do all possible to control the situation as he will succeed and get satisfaction from success. In case he is led to spell accurately two words of the spelling lesson, he might find no difficulty in working vigorously on the other four or eight. If he finds he can read the book he borrowed from the library and get meaning and pleasure from it, he has a motive to go on reading. But if it proves too hard for him, he is likely to dream as he reads and soon close the book and abandon it entirely.

Checker Playing

What we teachers and parents are most likely to do is to scold the dreamy child or to exhort him on the virtues of concentration. We might help him more by reciting to him verbatim some of Einstein's writings on relativity, or challenging him to play a game of checkers. By the latter we might, indeed, do a great deal in teaching concentration. If he wants to play well, he will have to cultivate concentration habits.

Therefore, we need to find out what the child can do well at home or school and to lead him to do tasks no harder. He must succeed in order to find satisfaction. As he enjoys success he is stimulated to attend more closely and to work more vigorously to win more success. We cultivate concentration in the child as we help him to win more victories when he tries to learn.

If you would like to have a list of books on how to study, write me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Is it wise for young people to marry before they are able to earn their complete support, with the understanding that their parents can and will give them financial aid?

A. In many instances, yes, especially if the new husband is still in a professional school; sometimes if he is still in college; even sometimes when he is beginning on a job of promise but not of adequate earning. Wise subsidy may prevent too great delay in marriage and the beginning of a family. Of course, the serious danger of such subsidizing of the newly-married pair is that they might be robbed of self-reliance and a healthy sense of responsibility.

Q. Suppose you asked a child of three or 13 to do something for you and he said he wouldn't or would rather not.

A. Treat him as you would an adult guest asked a similar question. A request, when honest, implies freedom of choice by the one requested.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FISHING INDIANS

All the way from Yakima, Washington, four feathered chieftains of the Yakima Tribe of Indians arrived in California on March first to argue with Uncle Sam in the Circuit Court of Appeals.

In Yakima, it seems, half the tribe was pinched for fishing without a State license. The Indians claim that an old treaty signed with the U. S. Government in 1885, guarantees them the perpetual right to fish without let or hindrance. A Federal Court in Washington State decided against the red men. But the poor Indian, in this case, is also a smart Indian—he timed his appeal to the higher court perfectly.

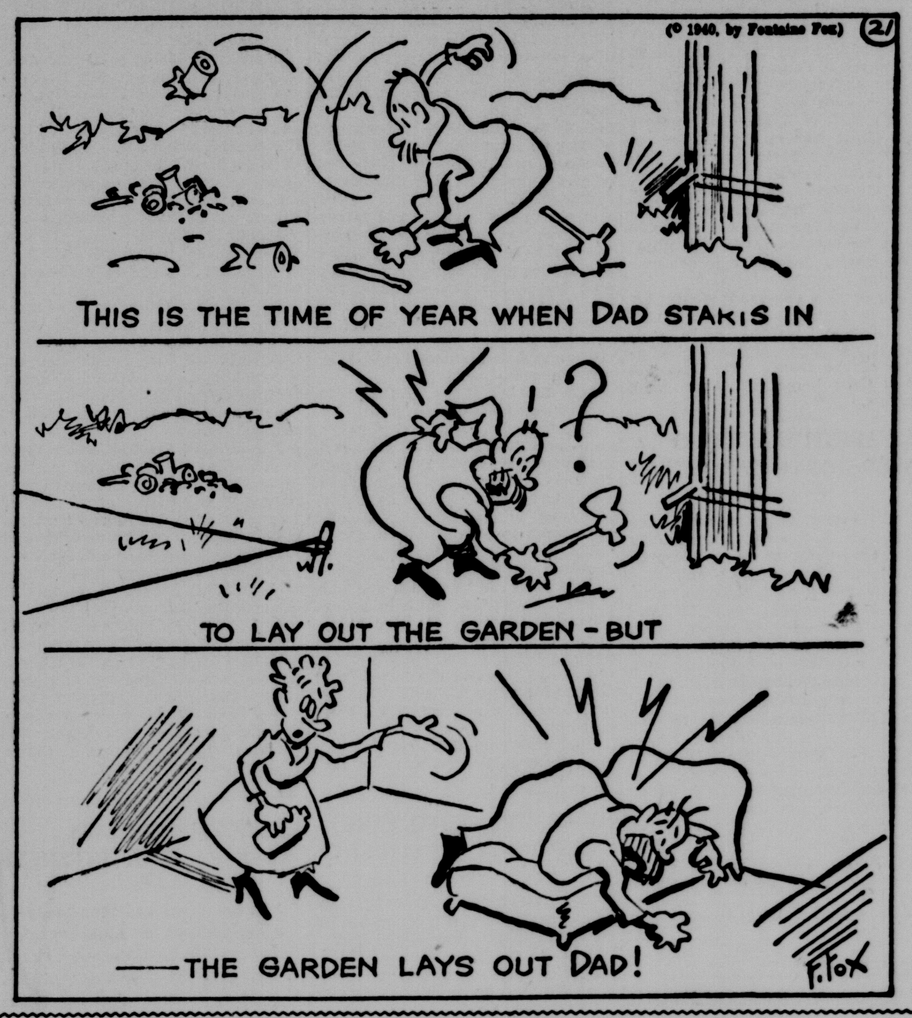

For the first languorous spell of spring is lazing over California just now—and in the Spring this is the fishin'est state there is! When the acacias are in bloom, and the warm, soft soil is pushing up the flowers that remind everybody that Easter's just ahead, and leaping trout glint in the sun over tumbling water—why then, men in offices, and men ou court benches, itch to chuck work and worries and dig out the old tackle. The wily chiefs couldn't pick a better time to say plaintively, "Judge, they won't let us fish. Can that be right?"

Law is law. But the best of attorneys have two strikes on 'em when—in Springtime in California—they tell a man he can't fish! And we sort of hope that the Indian goes over big with his first fish story of the 1940 season!

Few of us are at our best during the interval in which we prepare for breakfast and much of its wear and tear on the housewife will be saved if she will always start her morning meal the night before—set the table very attractively, prepare the fruit, put the coffee in the percolator or dripolator all ready to be put on the stove, do everything in advance that can be thus done. Every minute saved within this pre-breakfast period will be worth ten minutes saved before luncheon or dinner. Therefore, it may be found advantageous to do all possible bathing at night just before retiring instead of during the early morning rush hour. Reader's Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: I have a new daughter-in-law and would like to know just how to introduce her to my friends. She is an out-of-town girl and therefore a stranger to all my friends and neighbors.—M.

Answers: Why not give a luncheon and bridge and invite those of your neighbors and friends whom you would like to meet your new daughter-in-law?

If she is fond of bridge and meets in this way your acquaintances who are likewise fond of the game, she will immediately make contacts which will probably help to make her enjoy her new life. Bridge players always welcome with open arms any one who shares their enthusiasm for this modern pastime. Should she have no interest in bridge, give in her honor an afternoon tea or an evening party, inviting men as well as women.

Any of these functions would be a very pleasant and proper means of presenting your daughter-in-law to your friends and of giving her an opportunity to receive invitations from them.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

These four caskets contained bodies selected from the 1,600 unidentified American soldiers representing the battle fields—Aisne-Marne, Meuse-Argonne, Somme and St. Mihiel. Sergeant Younger was selected to make the final choice. He entered the room, circled it three times and placed a wreath on the third casket from the left.

New Deal Publicity Agents Good
Columnist Appraises Their Worth
Says Newshounds Poor Politicians

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Whether you like the New Deal or don't like it, you have to admit that it's been justifiably considerate of a lot of individuals who were an excellently enlightening influence in this country for many a long year before politico-economic liberality had the New Deal label pasted onto it.

I suppose it's because my own fraternity's involved that I think of this especially in connection with newspapermen.

Oh, yes; I know. The current national administration is accused of having taken on a perfect army of publicity agents—mainly for political purposes. And it's true that most of these boys badly needed jobs. They'd been hard hit by the depression, like other folk.

This, however, I'll say. The government didn't hire any bums or incompetents. I know Washington's press agentry in hundreds. It's the pick of newspaperdom, working for very moderate pay. The average newspaperman's no politician, either. He understands politics, but only as an observer. He doesn't try to break in. That isn't his specialty. So the notion that the New Deal created such a corps to deliver blocks of votes to it simply is silly.

Biographical Sketch

I can best illustrate how I feel about it with a little biographical reminiscence.

Back in the very, very early 1900's conservatives weren't so bitter against moderate liberals as they are against New Dealers today—perhaps partly because the then liberals weren't so advanced; maybe partly because leftism didn't look so near fruition.

Anyway, in this era I was telegraph editor of a big mid-western newspaper. On my desk was one of the brightest young men ever invented. Another rarely capable junior was on the reportorial staff.

We boarded together—were exceptionally chummy. I was as liberal as they were, but I didn't happen to like Theodore Roosevelt. They disagreed with me.

Parting of Ways

In due course we disintegrated.

The premier bright young guy I have referred to quickly rose to the management of one of the greatest newspaper chains in America and one of the world's greatest news-gathering associations.

I went to work for his association, traveling over the earth as a correspondent, for 20 years or thereabout. Then I fell out with him and sought employment elsewhere.

The third member of our group hooked up with the newspaper chain about when I connected with the world news association. His connection was as an individual newspaper editor. Which was o. k. at that juncture, because the chain's original owner was a rampant liberal, not to say a radical. It didn't make much difference with me; my dope was plain news. The other fellow, though, had to take an editorial position.

How Times Change!

But—consider. This is in terms of 40 years. The original owner of that newspaper chain died, and his son died, and the little copy-reading member of our initial trio had become the whole thing of our basic combination.

However, it ran along for awhile, with the other guy as editor of one of the chain's key newspapers.

Now, I submit that, to have lasted for 35 years, being steadily promoted meanwhile, he must have been a pretty fair editor. But out he went. Maybe he quit—because his stunt became impossible under the circumstances.

The government grabbed him, and made an acquisition. I'll say! I'm referring to Lowell Mellett of the R. F. C.

The Man Mellett

If ever there was a moderate and modest liberal entitled to consideration it's that Hoosier newspaperman.

He fought for righteousness thru-out his life. He's never got a thing politically but that pewee of a publicity job. Gosh! Conservatives ought to like him—as a darned good citizen.

He's got some conservative publicity.

Big towns get publicity. So does the country. But the little burgs? Now's the time to rally behind him, if ever.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1940, by The Baltimore Sun)

What Is Our Policy?

WASHINGTON, March 21. THE reason it is getting more difficult to follow the foreign policy of the Administration is because it is getting more difficult to know what it is. In the beginning it was frankly pro-Ally. What it is now no one really knows.

BEFORE the war began, and for quite a while since, the Presidential utterances bristled with denunciation of the dictators, exuded indignation over the policies and performances of the Nazi regime and were militantly on the side of the democracies. In his insistence upon the revision of the neutrality law, which was concededly and designedly helpful to England and France, Mr. Roosevelt had the support of an overwhelming number of anti-New Deal Democrats and Republicans. Without them, that fight could not have been won. At that time the general feeling in the country was only a little less pro-English and pro-French than it was anti-Hitler. At that time the President's foreign policy was indorsed by a great many people and papers opposed to practically all of his domestic policies. In both State Department and among closer observers outside there is a belief that Mr. Roosevelt has modified his attitude, to some extent diluted his policy.

OF course, he still is personally pro-Ally, and his speech on Saturday, indicating the only kind of peace he felt would be acceptable, found favor in British and French eyes. Nevertheless, his sympathies appear much less militant than they were and he has been responsible for several things which it is difficult, if not impossible, to reconcile with his foreign policy as it existed at the time of the neutrality fight. No reasonable explanation for these has been given other than that they were inspired by the exigencies of domestic politics.

FOR example, there was the series of notes about the seizure of mail, the result of which was to create a feeling of what seemed wholly unnecessary irritation against the British. After the first one, the British, in effect, said this: "Here are the facts. You know as well as we that if we do not seize and search the mail, material aid will reach the Germans which, for the sake of our cause, we must stop. Tell us what you want us to do, or tell us what you would do under the

Claim Woman To Become Mother Of Quintuplets

X-Ray Photographs Said To Indicate Quintuplets Will Be Born

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., March 21.—Blonde, slender Mrs. Emory Callahan, 22, who thinks the ideal family is twelve children, today remained calm and even delighted at the prospect she will give birth to quintuplets in May.

Unless X-ray photographs have been misinterpreted, the young bride of eight months will be delivered of five tiny babies, possibly sooner than May if a Caesarian operation is required, according to a copyrighted story in the Daily News. But she said:

"I was frightened at first, and couldn't believe it. My husband was dumbfounded, too. But now we're happy about it, and we're making big plans for the babies. I hope they're all girls."

Mrs. Callahan, who had not received any special care until after the X-ray was taken, was removed today from the small bungalow home, which the Callahans shared with two other couples, to Jackson Memorial hospital.

Neither her physician nor her husband would discuss the move, but it was reported she had been taken to the hospital merely for observation and as a precaution.

same circumstances—and we will do it. But don't write any more notes calculated to inflame sentiment against us." Nevertheless, the notes continued.

ANOTHER instance, previously pointed out, is the sending of Mr. Welles to Europe at a time when talk of peace is all in the interests of Germany and certainly unhelpful to the Allies. Regardless of the fact-finding explanations of Mr. Welles' visit, it could not fail to be interpreted as an inquiry concerning peace. It is true the President's speech made it clear that peace on terms acceptable to Hitler ought not to be considered. But that did not wholly offset the damage of the Welles visit in creating the impression that this Government thinks the time has come for negotiations, which is exactly what Mr. Hitler wants.

PERHAPS, that is in accord with the sentiment of the country and in tune with the facts, but it is none the less damaging to the Allies. Finally, there is the fact that the President has permitted, without protest, the story to be widely printed that one result of the Welles talk with Hitler will be the resumption of full diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States. We are, it is said, shortly to send an Ambassador to Berlin and they one to Washington. For the Berlin post the President is said to be considering not a diplomat but a Mr. Pickett, a pacifist, a friend of Mrs. Roosevelt, active in relief and peace movements.

IT, of course, was a mistake to have withdrawn our Ambassador in the first place. We did that at exactly the moment when we needed a competent career man most, and we did it to show our resentment of Nazi practices and policies. We did it, too, before the war. In the light of that action and with the war now reaching a critical stage, to send an Ambassador back to Berlin would unquestionably be construed by the Germans as approval of practically everything that has been done. It would seem a friendly gesture. It hardly could be reconciled with support for the democracies or distaste for the dictatorships. However it might be camouflaged, it literally would reek with inconsistency.

THAT such a move is now contemplated is difficult to believe, but it would be reassuring to have some authoritative denial therof. None has come. When all these things are weighed against the President's public utterances and the Neutrality Act revision it isn't easy to say what our foreign really is. Publicly we profess complete sympathy with the Allies and Administration denunciation of Hitler has been violent and unrestrained. Yet recent moves have appeared to play the German game and certainly have been discouraging to those for whom we profess friendship and whose success the bulk of the people desire. It is a strange and confusing way of doing things. The best judgment is that our foreign policy would be more coherent, concrete and consistent if it were not that this is an election year.

MRS. ANNA GORST HONORED BY GROUP

Honoring Mrs. Anna Gorst on her birthday anniversary, a group of American Gold Star Mothers and guests gathered in her home on Terrace avenue Wednesday evening to tender her a party as a means of celebrating.

The following members from out of town were also accompanied by a guest to share the event: Mrs. Inez Custer and Mrs. Jean McPherson, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Mary Cameron and Mrs. Frank Williams of Canton, O., Mrs. Emily Botham and Gladys Frey, of Erie, Pa. Others participating were from the immediate vicinity.

Games and contests were enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. Inez Custer, Mrs. Mary Cameron and Mrs. Rebecca McKissick. In addition an entertaining program was also contributed. Mrs. Good recited two poems, "The Wandering Boy's Dream" and "The Soldier's Duty". A skit was given by Mrs. Botham and Mrs. Margaret Cameron. A contest feature, "Guess What It Is", was followed by a period of riddles, bringing the occasion to a close.

A delicious lunch was served the assemblage at a table beautifully appointed in keeping with the Eastertide motif. Aiding Mrs. Gorst was her sister, Mrs. Lydia Taylor and Mrs. Margaret Cameron.

An array of beautiful gifts were received by Mrs. Gorst as expressions of appreciation of the kindness and work she has done for the Gold Star Mothers.

DOROTHY WOLFE AND CLEVELAND MAN WED

Miss Dorothy Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe, of Mercer street, and Eugene Harry Vendeland of Cleveland, O., were united in marriage in the study of Rabbi Gilbert A. Elefant, South Mercer street, Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock before an audience of 50 persons, including friends and relatives.

The bride wore a black and white chiffon street dress with a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

In the Elefant residence, guests enjoyed a period of dancing and entertainment after the ceremony. Tasty refreshments were served and aides were Esther and Ruth Wolfe, Sarah and Florence Elefant.

HADASSAH DONOR DANCE PLANS ARE COMPLETED

All preparations for Hadassah's tenth annual donor dance were completed last night, at a final rally held in the Cosmo club rooms on North Mercer street. Dancing will be in vogue from 10 until 1 a. m., with a well known orchestra providing the entertainment, in the ball room of the Field club, on March 26, where festivities will take place.

For those who do not dance, card tables will be arranged in the card room for their pleasure. In fact, no detail towards adding to the success of this sole fund raising function which the New Castle Chapter holds yearly for the benefit of its medical and refugee work in Palestine, has been overlooked. A fine enthusiastic committee headed by Mrs. J. Kulkin will be in the reception line to greet members and their friends who have aided in making the occasion a financial success as well as socially.

New Club Organized

Jane Roberts was hostess to the newly organized Dodge Your Spade club in her Englewood avenue home Wednesday evening. This was the group's first meeting, and the following officers were elected: president, Jane Roberts; vice president, Dorothy McCormick; secretary, Mary Elizabeth Dickey; treasurer, Mary Elizabeth Vaughn, scribe, Dorothy McClellan.

The playing of hearts provided the chief pastime, prizes being awarded to Dorothy McClellan and Dorothy McCormick. In serving lunch, the hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. G. T. Roberts.

Next meeting will be April 3 in the home of Doris Johnson, Wilmington road.

Sister Circle Club

Mrs. Sam Mooney entertained members of the Sister Circle club, Wednesday evening, at her home on Williams street, the event being held in the form of a personal shower for Mrs. Paul Mooney.

An informal social time was spent the game prize and club token being captured by Evelyn Sacripant.

Appropriate favors marked the places, and Ella Phillips assisted the hostess in serving lunch. Special guests included Mrs. Fred Sacripant and Mrs. Anna Mooney.

Mrs. Frank Bailey of Temple avenue, has invited the club to her home on April 17.

Old Time Rebekahs

Old Time Rebekah club members enjoyed a spring luncheon party Wednesday at noon, when Mrs. Zella George received them in her home on Pine street. Mrs. Bessie Durant was the associate hostess and Mrs. Margaret McCreary, daughter of the hostess, aided in serving.

Informal diversions were enjoyed for the remainder of the afternoon and the club tokens were won by Mrs. Hattie Nowling and Mrs. Lona Gray.

Mrs. Nowling will receive members in her home on Epworth street April 17.

Says Floral Easter Seems Indicated

Cunningham And Weingartner Ready For Season With Abundance Of Quality Flowers

It may be due to the unusually early date for Easter this year, or it may be due to the fact that flowers have been rather scarce. Whatever the reason Cunningham and Weingartner, well known local florists are convinced this is a floral Easter and have made preparations upon that basis.

In the past month the markets of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia have been combed for quality flowers. As a result they are prepared to handle any order from a single bloom up to the most exotic corsage.

Corsages of orchids, gardenias, sweet peas, roses, camellias, violets, lilies of the valley, are priced from $2 up. Roses of all varieties are priced at $2 per dozen up, boxes of attractive assorted flowers can be had for as low as $1.50 a box and blooming plants can be found in profusion from $1 up. Tulips, hyacinth, lilies, hydrangeas, azaleas, gardenias and roses, all of them can be had in pots.

With a store full of choice stock opposite city hall on East Washington street and a greenhouse full on the Butler road, Cunningham and Weingartner are ready for the Easter rush. A motorized messenger corps is ready to deliver orders at the time and place specified.

WEDDING EVENT IS OF INTEREST HERE

Miss Elvira Cassel of Detroit, Mich., and Edgar Gilbert, also of Detroit, son of William Gilbert of Raymond street, were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. Joseph's Evangelical Lutheran church by Rev. Frederick Stough. The ceremony was performed before members of the immediate families.

After the wedding, members of the party motored to a suburban tea room and enjoyed a prettily appointed dinner party. Later in the evening a reception was held in the Gilbert residence for the many friends of the young couple. Light refreshments were served and aides were Mrs. Raymond Gilbert, Mrs. Robert Howell and Mrs. Lee O'Rourke.

After April 1, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will take up residence in their newly furnished home in Detroit. She is employed as a nurse in the United States Marine hospital of that city, and he is also employed at the hospital.

SECTION ONE HONORS MEMBER WITH SHOWER

Mrs. F. L. Heller, who is moving out of town soon, was honored with a handkerchief shower at the meeting of Section One in the First Christian church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Percy Walls was hostess to the group at this meeting.

The usual one o'clock tureen luncheon was enjoyed, followed by the regular routine meeting.

The section will have a similar meeting on Wednesday afternoon, April 3, in the home of Mrs. Harry Horner, East street.

Progressive Club

Progressive Bridge club members were entertained Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. John Burns on West Moody avenue, at their informal social event, card contests filling in the hours. Mrs. Jesse Cox and Mrs. James T. Deane won the high honor prizes, while the "galloper" fell to Mrs. Betty Kradel.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, seasonal tones predominating in the appointments. Aiding were Mrs. Harry Hildebrand and Mrs. Charles Levine.

In two weeks a similar meeting will be held, the place to be announced.

Just-Us Club

Erma Belknap was a special guest and received a guest prize at the Just-Us club meeting in the home of Mrs. James Matthews, Neshannock avenue, Wednesday evening.

Five hundred contests claimed attention, prizes being won by Mrs. W. F. McCullough and Mrs. John Shaffer. Lunch was served at the close of play.

In two weeks, Mrs. Rudy Hnatt will be hostess to the group in the home of Mrs. Paul Tyrell, 16 South Front street.

M. S. S. Club

Wednesday evening, members of the M. S. S. club assembled at the residence of Angelyn Conglose, on Home street.

Miss Dorothy Micco captured a prize for contests and later the group was served a tasty menu in the dining room. Norma Geminiani assisted the hostess in serving.

Special guests were Peggy Barlett and Agnes Regna.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Anthony Vincent, East Morton street, on April 3.

Friday

Friendly Friends, Mrs. Frank Dute, Mills Way.

Jolly Four, Mrs. William McKinley, Willow Grove.

Hi-Lo Bridge, Mrs. Milton Reiber, Moody avenue.

Sorosis, Mrs. Joseph R. McFate, 424 Sumner avenue.

Macon Bridge, Mrs. Henry Sines, East Washington street.

Linger-Not, Jean McCreary, Martin street.

B. B. S. G., Mary Ann Schuller, North Beaver street.

Y. O. A. Club Meets

Y. O. A. club members were guests of Mrs. J. A. Porte, Laurel boulevard, Wednesday evening. The hours were spent in playing bridge, with Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas winning high score prize.

Mrs. Raymond D. Rhodes aided the hostess in serving lunch.

On April 3, Mrs. Anna Wagner, Croton avenue, will entertain the group.

Excell Club

Excell club members were entertained Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Henry Lorenz, Park avenue.

Informal diversions were enjoyed and candy and nuts were served. Mrs. Jack Mechling was the award winner for the evening.

Hail Y. M. Camp, Now In 18th Year

Last Eight Have Put Camp Rentz Among State's 'Top Rankers'

Since 1922, New Castle's Y. M. C. A. has been developing a camp for boys along Slippery Rock Creek. Before that time the Y. M. C. A. camped at Muddy Creek Falls, and the previous years at Girard, Pa.

The present site for camping was originally a tent camping site, but in the last eight years has developed into a cabin type camp, with camp buildings permanent. The buildings, fifteen in number can accommodate 72 boys and a staff of ten. The rounds have been improved each year until the camp site proper has a cleared premises of around five acres with a large grove of trees on the camp campus proper.

Swimming facilities of the camp have been improved and there is now available to the swimmers a space 90 feet long and 50 feet wide with a diving platform and different depths to suit different swimmers. Base ball fields, volley ball courts, badminton courts, horseshoe courts, tennis courts and all athletic fields are in excellent condition. Each year boys of New Castle and the surrounding county enjoy privileges of the camp. Due to the kindness and cooperation of outstanding citizens, over 50 needy boys are given this privilege each year.

Successful young business and professional men have enjoyed the privileges of Camp Rentz. A system of counseling is used at the Y Camp whereby a young man has charge of every 8 boys or one cabin. These young men are developed through the years from the campers who attend Camp Rentz. Emphasis is placed on spiritual training and last year the camp had 1,000 visitors to different events and Sunday vesper services.

City Receives Too Many Plates

During the past several years the city has junked some pieces of motor equipment. However, apparently no record of this was made and today City Clerk C. Ed. Brown reported receipt of license plates for the city's motor equipment.

Brown told council at a city hall meeting, that Motor Mechanic Chris Walker had advised that 10 pieces of equipment for which the city had received license plates were not in service because of their having been junked over a course of years.

Walker advised that the city cancel the licenses.

Purchasing Agent Joseph D. Alexander said he would peruse insurance records to determine if the city has been paying insurance on any of the junked apparatus although he indicated that such was not the case.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT A COLD

There are a numher of good things to do about a cold—but probably the best advice is—don't catch one. Says Mrs. Mary Ball, 1189—2nd Ave., New Kensington, Pa. "We have been using World's Tonic for some time now in our home and think it is a fine laxative prevention against colds. When the weather is bad the whole family uses World's Tonic. We cut down the dose for the youngsters and it works very good for them also." Take World's Tonic, as thousands have been doing for many years. Get World's Tonic, with alkalines, at Eckerd's, Paisley's, and all other up-to-date Drug Stores. (J 59)

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Three Hour Good Friday Service Planned In Ward

Guest Preachers To Speak On "Last Seven Words" At Methodist Church

Complete program was announced today for the special three-hour Good Friday service, scheduled at the Mahoning Methodist church, from 12 noon to 3 p. m. on Friday. Rev. D. J. Blasdell will be in charge of the program.

Following preachers will preach on "the seven last words":

First Word, 12 noon—Rev. D. J. Blasdell.

Second Word, 12:25—Rev. R. B. Withers.

Third Word, 12:50—Rev. Shingledecker.

Fourth Word, 1:15—Rev. E. A. Shoemaker.

Fifth Word, 1:40—Rev. F. S. Neigh.

Sixth Word, 2:05—Rev. R. H. Eckert.

Seventh Word, 2:30—Rev. M. E. Shearer.

Special music has been scheduled during the entire program with the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian church choirs cooperating. The services will be union, with all of the Mahoningtown church congregations taking part.

DOROTHY DOUDS ENTERTAINS CLASS

The Green Light Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church held a meeting at the home of Dorothy Douds, Monday evening. The hostess was in charge of devotions.

Dorothy Hall was reported as being ahead in the attendance contest now being conducted.

Games were played and a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, aided by her mother.

Civic Club In Favor Of Buses

Committee Appointed To Cooperate With South Side Board Of Trade

With the appointment of a committee to cooperate with the South Side Board of Trade, the Seventh Ward Civic club, opened its fight Wednesday, to have street cars replaced by buses on the local line.

The Civic club held a luncheon meeting in the Mahoning Methodist church, and appointed Harry Elder and Nick Cangey on the "bus committee".

East Cherry street paving was also discussed and plans were made to push the project for this summer. This paving job has been pending for over three years, and is one of the streets that needs attention most.

Plans were outlined for an attendance drive for the club, and Nick Rainey and Clarence Coates were named on a committee for this project.

The urgent need of a new traffic light at the intersection of West Madison avenue and North Liberty street, to replace the one that is so difficult to see, was discussed, and the club plans to approach council on the matter.

BIRTHDAY CLUB AT THOMPSON RESIDENCE

Mrs. J. D. Thompson was a charming hostess when she entertained members of the Birthday club in her East Madison avenue home at a dinner party.

A delicious menu was served by Mrs. Thompson, aided by Miss Helen Danonie and Miss Dorothy Thompson. A feature of the evening was a handkerchief shower for Mrs. George Huff and the hostess.

Contests and games were provided for entertainment and prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. Stewart and Miss Edyth Carnes.

The club will meet at the home of Mrs. G. Huff, North Cedar street, March 30.

BEAVER PATROL AT DE ANGELIS RESIDENCE

Members of the Beaver patrol of Boy Scout troop 4 held a meeting in the home of their patrol leader, Phillip DeAngelis, West Madison avenue.

Frank Calvert took part in the opening part of the meeting. Junior assistant scoutmaster of troop 4, Ted Metzler, was a guest.

Plans were made for a hike Friday, March 22, at 8:30 o'clock, weather permitting.

Next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 26, at the home of Herbert Mullen, North Liberty street.

Scribe, William Weitz.

MR. AND MRS. HUTNICK OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hutnick of East Clayton street were pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when a group of friends gathered to help them celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Margaret Snyder and Mrs. Hutnick.

Refreshments were served by Sue Parks, aided by Sally Deegan. Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the honorees.

MAGHI CLUB

Members of the Maghi club will meet at the home of Vyda Mullen, North Liberty street, Saturday evening.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. O. M. Tozer, Painesville, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Olmstead, Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Davis of McKees Rocks visited on Sunday with Mrs. Myrtle Stritzinger, West Wabash avenue.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police sought three boys who were in a garage at 407 Blaine street yesterday. The boys disappeared before a cruiser car had time to reach the scene.

With spring here police have ordered basketball hoops suspended from telephone poles in cartways to be removed.

Chief of Police Marion J. Young has ordered patrolmen to disperse youthful gangs who have been congregating in doorways in different sections of the city.

PIONEER SPIRIT MARCHING ON IN NEW CASTLE

Years ago the housewife who bought baker's bread did it under cover of night and only admitted the matter publicly when she was pressed. Those were the days of mother's home made bread. Of course your mother made the perfect bread, but there were a lot of loaves turned out in those days that tasted as though a shipment of paving brick had been diverted in transit.

Truth to tell in those days baker's bread wasn't anything to write home about either. A loaf of it could be squeezed together until it was half its original size and much of it looked as though it had been made of wind and water with a dash of flour for luck.

Those days are far behind us. Baker's bread today is the standard in most homes and the woman who bakes her own bread either does it because she likes to bake or because the family is large and it is more economical. But that is only for a large family.

New Castle has good bakeries. No one ever needs to buy a loaf of bread baked by out of town bakers for here we have master craftsmen turning out bread that is wholesome, nourishing and reasonable.

The New Model Baking Company located at 101 West Long avenue is one of the larger bakeries and their output is so large that it attracts attention. The company turns out over 12,000 loaves of bread per week. Among the materials the bakery uses are over 9000 pounds of flour, 200 pounds of salt, 1500 pounds of shortening, 650 gallons of milk, 1600 pounds of sugar, 50 pounds of butter, 330 dozen eggs, 100 pounds of honey, 500 pounds of powdered sugar, 200 pounds of jams and jellies, 1000 pounds of cake and pastry flour, 190 pounds of yeast, 4200 pounds of assorted fruit for jellies and pie fillings. That's an impressive lot of materials.

The company started in 1913 in Apple Alley and had two men, one horse and a wagon. The present building was purchased in 1918 and the store added in 1924. Today thirty men are employed. Marshall Budzowski is the owner and manager.

The Jefferson Baking Company was founded in 1917 and is located at 1029 South Mill street. In 1939 it was reorganized as the City Baking Company. The president is George Barco and the treasurer Frank Casimiri.

Fifteen men are employed and the output is 11,000 loaves of bread per week, 1500 dozen rolls, and to turn this out requires 19,000 pounds of flour, 500 pounds of sugar, 400 pounds lard, 200 pounds yeast, 175 pounds milk, 160 pounds salt, 400 pounds wrappers and 1000 bags.

The Roberts Baking Company is located at 1222 South Mill street and was established in 1910. Mrs. Nettie Roberts is the owner and William Fobes the manager. Ten people are employed and the output is 6000 loaves of bread per week, 200 pounds assorted cookies, 300 dozen buns, and for these the company uses 36 barrels of flour, 1800 pounds of sugar, 150 pounds of salt, 900 pounds lard, 120 pounds of yeast, 9000 wax wrappers, 1200 bags.

Benninghoff's Bakery caters only to retail trade but turns out 1000 loaves of bread per week, 300 pies and cakes, uses six barrels of flour, 200 pounds sugar, 50 pounds salt, 200 pounds lard, 24 pounds yeast. In the summer 100 gallons of ice cream per week are made.

Alpern and Katz was founded in 1921 by Percy Alpern and Abraham Katz, being located on East Long avenue. Twelve men are employed, the company doing both wholesale and detail business. In a week they turn out 3000 loaves of white bread, 2400 loaves rye bread, 35 dozen pastries, 220 dozen cakes, and 480 dozen rolls. They use about 40 barrels of flour, 1 barrel of salt, 145 pounds of yeast, 120 pounds of cake flour and 4 cases of eggs.

There are two other outstanding bakeries here Gustave's on East Washington street and the Danish Pastry on North Mill street. They have gone beyond just making bread and rolls and specialize in high grade pastries, pies, cookies, and specialties of all kinds.

The above list doesn't show all the bread used in New Castle but it gives you some idea of what is turned out here. And all of it good.

No Publicity To Census Answers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Newspaper reporters and radio commentators will not be permitted to accompany census enumerators to get material for stories or broadcasts, the census bureau ruled today.

The bureau said it is against the law for a stranger to overhear interviews between a census taker and persons being questioned.

GLAD TO TELL ANYBODY WHAT VENDOL DID SAYS PENNA. MAN

Declares it has been years since felt so good till finding the right medicine. Relieved constipation, stomach upsets and other troubles.

In scores of instances Vendol has won public acclaim by the best and most substantial residents of this state, for bringing back the joy of living after months, and sometimes years, of complaints that robbed them of glowing health. An example of how Vendol helped such a person is the public statement from Mr. John Clinger, highly respected resident living at 445 East 27th St., Erie, Penna., who says,

"Constipation kept me feeling so bad that neither mealtime nor bedtime were pleasures to look forward to. This constipated condition kept my stomach upset with acid indigestion and most everything lay heavy, turned to sour gas and rifted up to my throat. Felt like there was a lump on my chest and I often had sick headaches and was so nervous that I couldn't get to sleep for hours after going to bed. Next morning I'd feel limp as a rag with no energy to go to work.

MR. JOHN CLINGER

"Sometimes I'd feel bilious with spots dancing before my eyes and when I stooped over, I'd have to steady myself. I had little pimples on my skin.

"About three weeks on Vendol have made a big change in all this because it relieved my constipation completely; then all the other troubles seemed to fade away. It has been years since I've felt so good and I can hardly find words to thank Vendol for the grand change and relief it brought."

Give Vendol a chance to relieve your troubles. You can rely upon this famous medicine that has already helped so many people right here in our home town.

Vendol is sold by most all leading druggists everywhere and is highly recommended here by Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington St.

Crime In New Castle Below Average In U. S.

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, March 21—There was less crime in New Castle in 1939, in proportion to population, than in the average American city, according to data just made available by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

New Castle law enforcement agencies handled a total of 484 crimes during the year or 993 per 100,000 population. For the 363 cities in the country with populations over 25,000 for which figures are included, the average rate was 1,686 crimes per 100,000 residents.

The New Castle rate is higher than in 1938, when there were 961 offenses per 100,000. The local crimes consisted principally of 261 larcenies, 122 burglaries, 80 automobile thefts, 19 robberies and two assaults.

It is estimated by the FBI that 1,484,554 serious crimes or one every 21 seconds, were committed in the United States during 1939. This is a 3.5 percent rise over 1938. Most of them were for the puprose of obtaining property and more were committeed by youths of 19 than any other age, the next most frequent offenders being age groups 18, 22, 21 and 23.

Noonday Services At St. Joseph's

Good Friday Services To Start At Noon To Enable A Larger Crowd To Attend

The Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra, pro-tem pastor of St. Joseph's church, announces that with the new time schedule, 12 o'clock noon, for the Good Friday services, a larger number will be able to attend the services. In previous years, Good Friday services were held in the morning.

This year, the three-hour Agony services will commence at 12 o'clock noon, starting with the Mass of the Presanctified, and will include readings of scripture, passion and the great intercessions, and adoration of the cross. There will be a sermon, and way of the cross. Stations and venerations will be observed Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

PLAINGROVE

FELLOWSHIP BANQUET

The men and boys of the Plaingrove Presbyterian church met in the church dining room for their annual fellowship banquet on Tuesday evening, March 19, with near 80 men and boys in attendance The event was sponsored by the young men of the church. At 7 o'clock a delicious and well planned banquet dinner was served by the Friendship Guild.

Rev. J. Leslie Bell, Plaingrove Presbyterian pastor, gave the opening prayer. James Shaw, president of the young men's Bible class presided and introduced Edwin Cardner, toastmaster of the evening, who was in charge of the program. Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Fulton, recently of the Plaingrove United Presbyterian church and now of Portersville, very ably conducted pep singing. The welcome to the men was given by Walter Rodgers and the response by Given Shaw. George Gardner and Donald Shaw rendered a beautiful trumpet duet, which was followed by a comic skit by Harold Offutt and James Dight.

Clair Hetrick pleased the group with a vocal solo. The highlight of the program was an address by Hon. W. Sharp Fullerton, state assemblyman from this district and steward of the Pennsylvania State Grange, who chose as his subject "Cooperation in the Home". The strong point of his address was that what our country needs is a better Sabbath observance and that this can best be brought about by better cooperation in the home. This was followed by a stunt "Getting the boy up in the morning" after which Nathan Offutt very effectively sang "That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine". Prof. J. Clair Smith, principal of Plaingrove high school, gave fitting remarks. The closing moments were take up by singing "Faith of Our Fathers", prayer by Alvi Stevenson, and singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The meeting was considered a great success by all in attendance and it was the general feeling of those present that more such meetings would do much to tie families together in one great bond of fellowship.

Still popular at Pragelato in Piedmont is the Italian folk dance known as the "Dansa del bacio" or the "kissing dance." The main action of the dance is performed to a simple rustic tune; but the part which gives the dance its name is at the close when one of the musicians strikes a delicately high note. The dancers embrace—and kiss—to the merry cheers of the onlookers.

Purim Program Sunday Afternoon

Temple Israel Religious School To Present Purim Entertainment

On Sunday, March 24, at 2 p. m. the children of the Temple Israel Religious School will present their annual Purim entertainment. Each of the classes has a playlet to offer. Refreshments are to be served by members of the Sisterhood to the pupils.

Jews throughout the world will celebrate Purim (the Feast of Lots) the evening of March 23 and the day of March 24. In the Jewish calendar, it falls on the 13th day of Adar. A joyous holiday, Purim is observed with plays and masquerades, the giving of gifts to the poor, and by the baking of special foods reminiscent of the days in Persia.

The biblical story of Esther tells how Haman, a member of the court of King Ahasuerus of Persia, cast lots to determine on which day of the month the entire Jewish population was to be destroyed. Mordecai, the Jew, had angered Haman by refusing to give him homage. Through Esther, cousin of Mordecai and Queen of Persia, Haman's plot was revealed to the king and the decree of destruction countermanded.

On this semi-holiday, the Megillah, or the Scroll of the Book of Esther is read in the synagog. It is written on parchment and frequently beautifully illustrated and handsomely encased. This year, many American synagogs will use a 1940 English edition of the Megillah prepared by a committee on ceremonies of the Central Conference of American Rabbis.

Both Orthodox and Reform Jews observe Purim for only the one day.

Grove City Church Will Be Dedicated

Dedication Services Sunday Afternoon At New Grove City Church

Dedication services for the new Christian Missionary Alliance church at Grove City will be held Easter Sunday, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. Edward R. Truran.

The Alliance work in that district was begun in a school house and such progress has been made that it was necessary to erect the church, to be known as the Liberty Mission. The dedication service will be at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. E. C. Anderson, district superintendent of Christian Missionary Alliance.

Rev. R. L. Staley of North Carolina will preach at the 11 a. m. communion service and at the 7:30 service. Sunday school will be at 9:30 a. m.

Special singing and song services during the day will be led by Benjamin Jenkins of New Castle.

On Monday, March 25, Rev. T. H. Richey, the Irish evangelist from Mansfield, O., will begin a series of meetings to last throughout the week.

Fraternity Has House Pipe Organ

Westminster College Chapter Of Alpha Sigma Phi Has Unique Distinction

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 21.—The Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity chapter at Westminster college claims to be the only American Greek-letter organization owning a fraternity-house pipe-organ.

Installed under the direction of Clayton Taylor, Alpha Sigma Phi president, and music major from Clarendon, the fraternity house organ has an interesting history. Manufactured in Boston in 1880, the organ was later set up in the Presbyterian church of Bessemer. For services done for the church, the organ was given to Taylor. It is one of the four known single-keyboard organs in the country.

The chapter plans a dedication ceremony for the organ, featuring selections by Professor Gordon Baleh Nevin of the Westminster music conservatory and Fraternity president Taylor, student in organ.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MORE SUPERSTITIONS

One day when I was a good deal younger than I am now, a middle aged woman came to my office. She was in a terrible state of mind, half overcome with hysteria. It took several minutes to discover her trouble. She had learned she was pregnant again and she had thought she was through bearing children.

It wasn't just the plain fact she was to have another child that was bothering her. She had borne about twelve already. What was worrying her was an old, old superstition to the effect that if a woman who has functioned as a godmother bears a child, that child will be a deaf mute.

This was the first time I had ever encountered this particular superstition, and I was a little slow about catching on, for all the poor thing could do was moan: "Doctor, I am going to have a baby and I'm a godmother."

Just why the fact that she has sponsored a child at a baptism should interfere with her having a baby, I couldn't imagine. When I had discovered the significance of her moans, I had an extremely hard time clearing up her mind. I had more enlightened women talk to her. She still clung to the belief. Finally I called in the parish priest and between us we were able, finally to quiet her. We succeeded, although she had repititions of her fears from time to time right up to the confinement. Of course, the child was normal, when it was born, and that particular superstition took a beating in that community.

I found out later that it was an old French superstition that had been handed down for generations. In the settlement where this woman lived, there were still quite a few people who believed it, for these old wives' tales are hard to discredit.

Another equally baseless superstition we country doctors have to combat is a "recipe" for helping a woman through her labor. It is that dried bird lime, when smeared on the woman's abdomen, will hurry birth of the child.

The day the Quintuplets were born, I ran into an old superstition. The babies, like all children, displayed signs of jaundice immediately after they were born. The five of them turned quite yellow, but since that is quite a normal thing with newborn children, I didn't think anything about it. I had plenty other things to occupy my mind.

Some of the neighbors were in, helping get the stunned Dionne household in some sort of order. Every now and then, the covering over the babies would be turned down, and the women would look at them. I heard whisperings, but I was much too busy to pay any attention. Finally one woman came to me, and pointed out that the children had jaundice.

"You know, saffron tea is awfully good for that. We always give it," she suggested very respectfully.

Well, I had known for a good many years that grandmothers always prescribed saffron tea for the child with jaundice. Ordinarily, I never quarelled with the belief, for it is a harmless one. But I knew the line there. The children were so weak, I knew any handling would be fatal, so I refused. I knew they didn't have much chance to live, but I wanted to see that they got the full benefit of all the chances there were.

AROUND CITY HALL

Big Run will be dredged and be able to carry an eight foot deep stream of water after the Big Run is improved according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop. The stream will be 66 feet wide, he stated.

When a person is quarantined for chickenpox the ban is effective for 16 days and a quarantine for 30 days is placed on homes in which there is scarlet fever. A quarantine of 21 days is effective for diphtheria patients and the same for mumps.

Construction of the storm sewer in North Mercer street has proceeded to a point north of Northview avenue and the North Jefferson street storm sewer has progressed to a point near Leasure avenue. Like the North Mercer street sewer, it also will run to the city line.

Several days ago a young man of Ohio was arrested and brought here to answer a charge concerning the manufacture and passing of worthless checks. He came from a good family and the lad's father visited him here yesterday. While talking of the case with Chief of Detectives Willis McMullen, the man, up in years and feeling the grief that only those who have someone go wrong realize said: "I have never had any business with police until this came up. However, I want to say that I never met a finer set of men or been treated more kindly than I have been by the New Castle police."

Jack Gerson has presented the detective bureau of the city with a clock . . . . City hall clerks will be off duty Good Friday, because all offices will be closed . . . . Chauncey Davis, sanitary policeman, collected samples of milk sold here yesterday.

Should Rush Move To Secure Plates

Superintendent of mails, David B. Thomas, at the local post office, urges those who desire their automobile license plates by April 1, and have not yet sent in their applications, to do so at once. The two last days of this month will be Saturday and Sunday. There will be no delivery on Saturday afternoon or Sunday. To ensure delivery, in case the license plates arrive at the local office on either of those days, Mr. Thomas advises the enclosure of a special delivery stamp with the application, to the Revenue Department, at Harrisburg.

Pennsylvania One Of Few States To Escape W.P.A. Cut

Bad Weather Conditions Have Halted Much Of Work During Winter

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Pennsylvania is one of the very few states which are escaping an April slash in WPA employment.

WPA Administrator Harrington has fixed a national WPA quota for April at 2,120,000. This compares with a March quota of 2,348,000. State administrators have been directed by Colonel Harrington to dismiss these 128,000 workers by the first of April.

No cut, however, is required in Pennsylvania. The state's April quota remains unchanged at 165,000. This was the same as the March quota.

As a matter of fact, Pennsylvania WPA rolls will be increased. Because of bad weather, projects have been unable to operate 100 per cent and the state's quota has not been filled. On March 6, last available date for which figures are available, only 144,812 WPA employes were at work in the state, 19,188 less than the allowed quota. WPA officials here believe improved weather will permit a boost in the number of those at work in the Keystone State.

LEESBURG

CHURCH SERVICES

Pre-Easter services will be held at the church this week beginning on Wednesday. Rev. Miller of Volant will preach Thursday evening, and Rev. William Lloyd will preach on Friday evening.

Holy communion will be observed Sunday.

The Men's Brotherhood of the church will meet at the church on Tuesday evening, March 26.

ENJOYS SHOWER

The ladies of the church held a farewell party and handkerchief shower for Mrs. William Stone at the church Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

The afternoon was spent in a social way.

A delicious lunch was served by the committee in charge.

The honor guest received a large number of handkerchiefs.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone moved from the Harry Hunter farm where they had lived for the past 16 years to Mill Village, where they will make their future home.

The house vacated by them will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lizzie and family of Mercer.

GUESTS AT BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Mell Brenneman spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mayne of Mercer, where they were guests at a birthday dinner, honoring the birthdays of Ruth Brenneman of New Castle and Joe Brenneman of Mercer.

LEESBURG NOTES

S.S.S. TONIC must be good
So many people take it —to increase appetite —to boost energy
COUNTLESS thousands of men and women can testify to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought them.
The facts are simple because of all conditions effecting the human body a low blood count is most deceptive. If you feel rundown . . . lack a keen appetite . . . have lost weight . . . don't give up until you restore those precious red-blood-cells back to normal.
S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again.
In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways . . . first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy.
Try S.S.S. which any drug store can supply and no ethical dealer will suggest a substitute. The big 20 oz. size is a two week's treatment and represents a saving in the purchase price. ©S.S.S. Co.

"EVERY ONE OUT" SUNDAY SLOGAN

Loyalty Campaign Will Be Climaxed By Attendance On Easter Day

"Every One Out" Sunday is the designation for Easter in the "Loyalty" campaign being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, and next Sunday will climax this eight weeks pre-Easter effort to increase the Sunday school attendance and to also promote increased Evangelism, church attendance and Bible study.

While the weather for the most part has not been favorable during the campaign, still good results have been obtained by the participating Sunday schools in both the city and county, and next Sunday, March 24, should climax this co-operative effort.

The percentage standings to date have been published for the four New Castle groups, comprising 20 Sunday schools and the percentage standing for all the Sunday schools outside of New Castle that has sent in their reports will be given below:

Ellwood District group—Bell Memorial Presbyterian, 1.201; First Christian, .868; First Methodist .684; Immanuel Reformed .385; and Wurtemburg Methodist, .296.

Wilmington District—(Incomplete) Rich Hill Presbyterian 2.569; East Brook U. P. 1.667; East Brook Methodist, 1.147; Shenango U. P. 1.056 and Neshannock Presbyterian .896.

Mt. Jackson District—Bethel U. P., 1.957; Bessemer Presbyterian, 1.109; Mt. Jackson U. P. 1.034; Edinburg Christian .648; Edinburg Methodist, .104; Hillsville Methodist .076 and Enon Valley Presbyterian, .000.

Wampum District—Moravia Presbyterian 5.145; West Pittsburg Methodist 4.528; Wampum Methodist 3.525; Wampum Presbyterian, 1.852; Clinton Methodist, 1.794; Newport Methodist, .886 and Chewton Christian .067.

In the Slippery Rock District the Neshannock U. P. has a percentage of 1.881.

Dodge Dealer's Easter Parade Draws Throngs

The J. R. Rick Motor Car Co.'s Easter style parade, preparations for which were announced earlier, opened its doors yesterday upon a truly impressive lineup of automobiles and on a record audience that proved both pleased and surprised.

The cars on display are different members of the new 1940 Dodge line chosen with Easter-seasonal regard for their beauty and variety of colors. Undoubtedly, one of the ideas back of the "Parade" staged with such timeliness was the desire of the sponsors—the manufacturers as well as the dealers—to conform, in finishing and equipping the new cars, to an unquestioningly heightened color consciousness on the part of the public.

Hence, the splendors of delicate Blues, the stateliness of Regal Maroons, the eager air of Aircruiser Red, the cool arrogance of Grays, the restful shades of Greens — all colors beautiful, yet each with its own distinctive appeal echoing the Easter season when Nature herself bedecks the earth in new colorings.

It has been said that personality, mood and temperatment may have eloquent expression in colors—and the comments heard at the Dodge Easter Style Parade certainly bear out the theory.

The magnet of the Easter Style Parade, judging from the clusters of spectators surrounding the exhibit, is a new Dodge model, seen here for the first time; it has been named the Hollywood model—aptly suggesting the glamorous appeal of beauties of the screen.

While the visitor to the Easter Style Parade feasts his or her eyes on style on wheels, other callers brush up on style information by obtaining free copies of a beautiful Dodge Style Book redolent with Spring fashions not only in automobile colorings, but in the things that fashionable ladies and well groomed gentlemen wear this 1940 Easter.

As if this were not enough—the visitor may treat his musical senses to "The Easter Parade" as sung by Kenny Baker, radio's famed tenor and headliner of the Texaco Star Theater.

It's quite a show. You ought to go and see it.

Applicants Who Leave State To Be Accepted On Assistance Rolls

J. W. Moorehead, Executive Director, Today Announces Change In Ruling

J. W. Moorehead, executive director, announced today that the Lawrence County Board of Assistance has been authorized to give "immediate effect" to a Department of Justice ruling permitting relief applicants who left Pennsylvania in an "honest effort to obtain employment" to be accepted on state assistance rolls upon their return even though they lack the two years residence "immediately preceding application," specified in the Public Assistance Law.

The ruling was handed down by Attorney General Claude T. Reno last week at the request of Secretary of Public Assistance Howard L. Russell.

According to department officials, the ruling will "avoid penalizing the person who is definitely a Pennsylvanian, with a legal settlement here, but who went to another state to take a job, and avoid relief, and now finds himself in need because the job has ended."

Under the State Public Assistance Law, as amended in 1939, applicants for general assistance must have not only a legal settlement in Pennsylvania, but must have resided in the state for two years immediately preceding application.

Characterizing the modification of the two years residence requirement as "extremely helpful administratively," Deputy Assistance Secretary Raymond T. Bowman said today, "General Reno's interpretation is manifestly in accordance with legislative intent to encourage employment and it ties in with a number of departmental policies adopted with the same end in view.

For example, an automatic reinstatement certificate is available for any person who leaves relief rolls to take employment. This means that whether the job ends in a week or six months, assistance can be resumed immediatelfy, if the person is in need. This plan has eliminated any basis for hesitation about taking temporary work on the ground that hardship may result from delay in getting necessary relief again. since time-consuming investigation work can be postponed until after the first check has been received. Under the Department of Justice ruling this provision bill, of course, apply equally to a job taken in another state."

Members of the state supreme court were paid tribute in Pittsburgh Wednesday night when the attorneys of the Sixth Zone, Pennsylvania Bar Association met in the Schenley Hotel for a testimonial dinner.

The Lawrence County Bar Association was represented by Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey, former Judge James A. Chambers, Attorneys Roberts M. White, Homer C. Drake, Edwin K. Logan, Alvah H. Shumaker, Samuel L. Clark, Court Stenographer F. M. Rowland and Court Crier F. M. Vance.

Judge Dickey was a member of the committee on arrangements. The supreme court is in Pittsburgh for the current session of court.

Looking something like the top of a chocolate cake, the lounge room of the law library has its new floor. Because the floor had somewhat the appearance of a sway backed horse, it was necessary to level it up and this was done with asphalt and cement. When the composition dries, it will be covered with rubber tile matching the library room.

The new library room has a lot of space on the walls for pictures. Some of the old time bar association pictures will probably be hung there and it is to be hoped pictures of a few of the old time judges will be found there soon. The picture of Judge Agnew certainly should be put up. He went from this district to the state supreme court later to become chief justice and one of the really great chief justices in the history of the state.

Among the wills probated in the office of Register and Recorder Orville Potter are the following:

The will of William C. Atkinson, late of Wayne township leaves his car, gun case and cabinet with all arms to Albert Pilshaw. The house and lot formerly sold to Albert Pilshaw and his wife, Ellen, on an article of agreement are to go to them outright. To a son, William E. Atkinson and a daughter Elizabeth, $1 each. All the rest of the estate to a cousin, Dean Atkinson.

The will of the late Mary A. Madge, formerly of New Wilmington is rather extensive in its bequests. To a brother, Charles E. Semple, a picture of an ocean liner, and at his death to his daughter, Mary Semple Anglemeyer. To a sister, Caroline E. Fruit, a picture of an American scene, and at her death, to her son, Fred T. Fruit. To a niece, Jean Semple, a picture of a Switzerland scene. To a nephew, Charles Edward Semple, a painting of fruit. To a nephew, Clarence Semple, a bird painting. To Sarah Madge Scott, a gold watch and chain, to Rebecca Madge Dennis, a diamond bar pin. To William Bell, an American encyclopedia, to a brother, Charles E. Semple, and sister, Caroline Fruit, all the rest of the household effects. To the Lebenanon Cemetery Association, $100 for perpetual care of grave of her deceased husband, Robert Madge. The rest of the estate goes to the Home Missions Board of the United Presbyterian church and the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U.

The will of the late Elizabeth V. Walker of Pulaski leaves her estate to five daughters, Jessie B. Cannon, Bessie N. Randall, Grace E. Newton, Margaret C. Moore, Amanda Mary Tribby.

ALL A PUZZLE AS LIONS REHEARSE 'CANDY BOMBING'

Clubmen, Wives, Pitch "Trial Bags" Out Of Downtown Building

Some were tempted to call the police. Others weren't sure what should be done.

So they just kept watching—and while they watched, a group of men and women kept tossing paper bags out of an open sixth floor window of a downtown building last night.

You, too, would have watched.

Not Much Sense—No?

To the watchers and to you it would not have made sense—to the members of the Lions club and their wives, though, it made plenty of sense.

The Lions and their ladies gathered in the Greer building to design and make "kite-like" parachutes for the big "Easter egg bombardment" which the Lions will sponsor here Saturday afternoon. From the sixth floor of the building they tested various parachutes all Wednesday evening. Finally, after several tests, a successful 'chute was devised.

And when Pilot Finley Wilson takes to the air with his 350-pound load of jelly eggs Saturday afternoon at 2, he'll know the bags will land on the chosen "field targets" softly and without disaster. After all, youngsters want to eat the candy.

Announce "Candy Fields"

The Lions and their wives worked late to turn out 2,000 kite tails.

Pilot Wilson, with Lions Jay G. Rudolph and L. J. Brown, will toss bags out over George Washington school's field, the Rose Avenue school field, Centennial field (East Side), the Shenango-Taylor school field (Sheep Hill district), Sunny Avenue school (Union township), and over the football field of Union Township high school.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

Thursday the King's Daughters held their March meeting with Mrs. Park Bell.

At noon a dainty dessert luncheon of Easter appointments was served.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

JOIN IN "PIONEER WEEK" . . . . MARCH 25th. — 31st.

LET'S LOOK INTO THIS "PIONEER" IDEA---

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU....AND OUR CITY?

THE other day, we said something about the first pioneers here—and what they were up against. And the Indians—whose idea of community vigor was "Let George do it," or whatever was the Indian name for George. Probably Mrs. Squaw. (There's a lesson for us in that.)

That was in 1790. Then about 1830 came changes. Some signs of industry—a couple of iron works. A glass works. And your first gas company in 1856. Population passed 1700. But they didn't have much to work with, and not much of a field to work in. Nothing like we have today if we stop to dig out the facts. They didn't have electric power, telephones, water systems, radios, autos or much of any "tools." They got along without steel mills. New Castle wasn't a steel town then—any more than it is today.

Yesterday's pioneers weren't so different from the pioneers of any day. They were up against realities and figured what to do to whip them.

We have pioneers today in New Castle. We need pioneers. We face the facts, you and all of us. We see plenty of good points—and where the winning is to be done. We see new kinds of industry growing up. Pioneering. Creating new sources of jobs. Steadier jobs. And room for more.

We see a greater participation of local capital. The vigor and interest of LOCAL industrial management. Local ideas kindling new fires in civic energy—working out new products—looking for ways to make jobs. These are good signs—we can use more. You can help. Chase out the "Indian" attitude if you see it—with your spirit of new pioneering into the 40's.

That's why those signs across the state have a meaning to you: "Something has happened in Pennsylvania." Here in New Castle, too. You're a part of it. It's modern pioneering: starting with what we've got and making way for enterprise. The kind where we welcome them to make a profit. That's the kind that makes payrolls. When somebody makes a dollar, a LOT OF PEOPLE eat.

SURE, WE'VE HAD OUR TROUBLES . . . BUT WE'RE NO LONGER JUST A "STEEL TOWN" . . .

DIFFERENT INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISES

99

DIFFERENT TYPES OF PRODUCTS

MORE WORK IN THAT DIRECTION WILL PULL US UP!

Give industry a welcome—give enterprise freedom to get some place, and jobs will get some place, too. This country isn't completed. America needs plenty. And New Castle is lining up to supply some of that "plenty."

When we celebrate Pioneer Week—we're not looking back, we're looking ahead. It's not for the old settlers of 1790—it's for YOU. Come on along together.

Doctor Is Found Dead In Office

Body Is Discovered By Roomer In North Street Building Last Night

Dr. Walter C. Kissinger, aged 60 years, of 24 East North street, a practicing physician in New Castle for the past thirty-five years, was found dead in his office at 8:35 p. m. Wednesday. Death was due to a bullet wound in the head, believed inflicted by himself.

The body was discovered by William Burton Anderson, who rooms in the building. He had been out on an errand, and returning about 8:40 o'clock, had dropped into the office of Dr. Kissinger, finding him dead on the floor, with a .44 calibre pistol, of an old-fashioned type at his side. Mr. Anderson went to the third floor, where he notified the family.

Ill health is believed to have been the cause of his death. For some time, Dr. Kissinger had been rather despondent because of ill health.

Dr. Kissinger was born in New Castle, October 23, 1879, the son of John S. and Sarah Hunt Kissinger. He had been married for 32 years. He was a life member of Lodge of the Craft No. 433, F. and A. M. He was a graduate of Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia.

Surviving are his wife, Maud S. Kissinger, a son, John F., and a daughter, Janet Kissinger, all at home.

Funeral services, which will be private, will be conducted from Offutt's, with burial in Oakwood cemetery, Sharon.

End Arguments On Mandamus

Expect Decision In Case Will Be Handed Down Soon By County Court

Arguments concluded today at noon in the hearing held before Judge W. Walter Braham on the mandamus asked for by Democratic County Chairman John B. Shaw and a group of colleagues. The hearing started Tuesday morning in court room No. 1.

Testimony was completed Wednesday afternoon with the calling of County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers and the secretary of the county committee, James Vissella. They testified to the validity of the certification of George McWherter, who acted as special chairman of the county committee meeting which amended the rules of the party. They also testified as to the conduct of the meeting held on February 10.

Counsel for each side argued their positions this morning. The plaintiffs argue that the county board of elections should accept the certificate of Chairman John B. Shaw which precludes the position of county chairman going on the ballot for election by popular vote.

The defense argues that the state executive committee approved the calling of a special meeting and approved the amendment of the rules and that McWherter's certificatio shou'd be accepted.

Because of the time element it expected that Judge Braham w hand down a decision within a sho time.

Girl Reserves Plan Trip To Pittsburgh

New Castle And Shenango Club Members On Pittsburgh Trip Next Wednesday

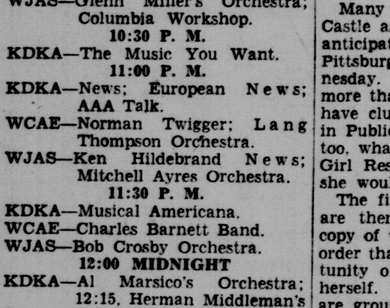

Many Girl Reserves of New Castle and Shenango Township are anticipating the annual trip to Pittsburgh which will be next Wednesday. The girls participate in more than just the trip itself. They have club discussions on "Behavior in Public," discussions that include, too, what the appropriately dressed Girl Reserve would wear and how she would eat.

The findings of these discussions are then compiled into a test, a copy of which is given each girl in order that she may have the opportunity of actually checking up on herself. The questions in the test are grouped under the headings of clothes, on car or train, at the table, and general. For example, under the classification of "general" is the question, "Don't stare at an invalid or cripple." If a girl never stares at an invalid or cripple, she gives herself ten per cent; if she does about half the time, she rates herself 5 per cent and if she stares quite noticeably all the time she gives herself a zero. There are other questions dealing with attitudes while some are of a more concrete nature.

The intinerary includes several places of interest.

Each girl receives a permit which, with a parent's signature and the necessary funds for the trip, must be returned to the Y. W. C. A. by tomorrow.

Accident Victim Is Now Improving

Elmer C. Dickey of R. F. D. No. 3, Slippery Rock, who was critically injured Tuesday night, when he lost control of his automobile, which crashed into a tree, south of Slippery Rock on Route 8, is reported as slightly improved at the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was brought following the accident.

Dickey's father, Robert Dickey, and a brother, Charles Dickey, had just left for a western motor trip, but communication was established with them at El Paso, Texas, and they are now enroute to his bedside here.

In 1656, it was compulsory for planters in America to foster the silk industry by planting mulberry trees. So certain were the rulers of the colonies that North America was an ideal place for silk culture, that they compelled every planter to grow at least 10 mulberry trees for every 100 acres of land. Silk culture won a brief foothold on this continent, and in 1735 silk was exported from Savannah to England.

If you have a tendency to cut yourself when you peel vegetables, rubber finger and thumb protectors used in offices will be found less awkward to wear than rubber gloves and serve just as well.

GREAT NEWS!

KRUSCHEN—NOW COMES IN NEW PLEASANT TASTING DELICIOUS "BUBBLING" FORM

Constipation Sufferers Overjoyed!

Since recent scientific tests were made public, Kruschen is winning new friends everywhere. And just listen to this—Kruschen now comes in a NEW effervescent form—sparkling—"bubbling"—pleasant tasting—and offers an IDEAL "daily" treatment for constipation.

Tests at a World-Famous Hospital proved that a "little daily dose" of Kruschen actually helps nature to produce her own gentle, pleasant "daily" bowel movements by keeping the waste matter in the colon soft, moist and easy to expel. Also a mild antacid and kidney stimulant.

Kruschen gives you MORE for your money, too! A jar costs only a trifle and lasts for WEEKS! And now that it comes in such delightfully pleasant form—why don't YOU get onto the "little daily dose." (Kruschen is also obtainable in the original "still" form.) Made in U. S. A.

No Changes In Yankee Lineup

Manager Joe McCarthy Will Stand Pat On His Lineup He Used In 1939

Maybe One Or Two Young Rookie Hurlers Will Be Kept, Dickey Is Mainstay

By SID MERCER
International News Service Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21.—There is a baseball team down here called the New York Yankees—and they're pretty good, too.

Joe McCarthy is one pilot who has no pre-season worries. His four time world's champions are cranking up slowly for another season with no changes in the regular lineup. McCarthy, however, is taking out some insurance on his pitching prospects. At this writing no American league team except the Boston Red Sox rates as a serious threat to a fifth consecutive triumph for the Yankees.

Not Borrowing Trouble

Of course accidents that might remove one or more key men could suddenly alter this picture. But McCarthy is not borrowing trouble.

Newcomers in the Yankee camp can hardly be classed as "rookies." One, Lee Grissom, is a transfer from the National league. All the others have acquired double A polish on the Newark and Kansas City Yankee plantations. This group includes five pitchers, three infielders and one outfielder. Green rookies in the Yankee chain are inspected in various farm club camps.

Probably not more than two of this Yankee freshman squad will linger at the stadium after May 16 when the team limit of 25 men becomes effective. It is also probable that every one of these men could qualify right now for jobs with other big league clubs.

Not Too Old

The Yankees, as a team unit, are getting no younger—nor are they getting much older. Dickey, Ruffing, Powell, Selkirk, Rolfe, Murphy, Chandler, Hadley, Jorgens, Hildebrand and Pearson are on the shady side of 30 but twelve others are on the sunny side. Best years are ahead for DiMaggio, Keller, Gordon and Henrich and three or four pitchers.

No field positions were open when the Yanks started training here three weeks ago and none are open now. The quality of pitching strength depends largely on how Ruffing and Gomez hold up this season. Grissom and Marvin Breuer, young right hander from Kansas City, are the two pitchers likely to survive the final cut.

The Yankees are trained systematically. They have a business-like camp with three coaches aiding McCarthy. The routine reflects the efficient methods of the organization. Nobody is hurried. Newcomers get thorough inspections and their faults are pointed out. McCarthy mentally grades them for future reference.

Standing Pat

Fielders are permitted to take their time getting into shape. This spring McCarthy is standing pat on his infield and outfield personnel so the rest is just a matter of physical condition.

McCarthy will start with twelve pitchers, three catchers, five infielders and five outfielders. The pitching upbeat finds Marius Russo labeled as the best young left hander in the league. Steve Sundra, who won eleven games and did not lose until the last day of the season, looks very good. Breuer is a classy recruit and Atley Donald, who won twelve straight last season, is heavier as he starts his sophomore year.

The Yanks can be beaten here and there but who's going to beat them over a season's play?

Collegiates Top Booster Quintet To Enter Finals

Score Is 31 To 28 In Fast Game Tuesday Night At Washington Gym

FANNINS ENTER CLASS B FINALS

Before another large tournament crowd Tuesday night the Collegiates entered the finals of the third annual city-county basketball tourney by defeating a fast New Castle Booster team 31 to 28. The Collegiates and Polish Falcons will battle next Tuesday for the class A championship. The Fannins in the class B semi-final defeating the New Castle Indies 49-29.

The Collegiates climbed into the lead at the very outset of the game and held the lead in every period The end of the first period found the Collegiates out in front 6 to 3. The end of the first half it was 13 to 12. The Boosters had a hard time locating the hoops.

Tom Carey Stars

Tom Carey, the former New Castle High and Slippery Rock star, sparked the Collegiates the first half with four baskets for eight of the points. Elmer Wainio had two buckets and Jimmy Dart supplied the other point. Blackie Nocera with a pair of field goals was high point man for the Boosters the first half.

The Collegiates in the third period maintained the same even balance they showed in the first two periods and peppered the hoops for nine more points to lead 22 to 19 at the end of the third period. Play in the fourth and final period was fast and furious with both teams throwing caution to the winds and striving desperately to score. Both teams flipped nine points for the final stanza to make it 31 to 28.

Tom Carey, "Obie" O'Brien and Jimmy Dart were the standouts for the Collegiates. Nocera, Bus Strausbaugh and Pitzer were the best looking players in the Booster lineup.

Fannins Trim Indies

The Fannin basketball team, made up of New Castle High past and present stars, entered the class B finals last night by taking the measure of the New Castle Indies quintet in a lopsided battle 49 to 29. The Fannins will now meet the Junior Ex-High Stars next Tuesday for the ciass B championship.

The Indies after two good periods in which they led, blew up. The first period it was 10 to 7 in favor of the Indies and at the half it was 20 to 17. The Fannins opened up a fast breaking attack in the third period to take the lead at the end of the period at 33 to 25.

Fannins Stage Runaway

In the fourth and final period the Fannins staged a scoring attack that had the Indies bewildered. The Fans outscored the Indies 16 to 4 for the final stanza.

Leading the Fannin scoring attack were Eddie Cowden, Vince Kelly, Christopher and Thomas with a well balanced and even attack. There was no outstanding star in the Fannin lineup. Best for the Indies were Looie Santangelo and Guido Santangelo with 13 of the points between them.

Sports World Ramblings

Dean's big chance—Johnny Dean's impending date with Irving Sarlin, Monday night in Rayen Wood auditorium, is, by far, the most crucial chapter in the local middleweight's career. In sports jargon, it's the "big chance". Dean's future in the cockeyed cauliflower industry rests on the outcome of the approaching battle with the Pittsburgher.

Since discarding his nautical raiment, Dean hasn't found the road to fistic success too rocky. After a dismal showing in Pittsburgh, against Freddie Lenn, the genial mauler got a chance in Youngstown. He immediately struck stardom, so far as the gallery was concerned. He returned and turned back Lenn, the same fellow who defeated him ignominiously.

Now comes the tough Sarlin. A victory for the localite may serve as a springboard to a Billy Soose match. By meeting and defeating the polished Farrell lad, who incidentally, appears in Monday's main go, Dean will be headed for the big things, say, New York. All this comes if Johnny can tumble Sarlin.

So far as the local fistic gentry is concerned, Sarlin is a nonentity. In ring circles, however, he ranks as a stiff clubber, a leather pusher who knows what the score is. He has done most of his fighting in Pittsburgh and several other large towns. Most of the typewriter jockeys say Sarlin will give Dean plenty of headaches.

Bits about the femmes—After a successful southern tour, Mrs. Freda Nolan has returned home. The talented golf specialist had a busy winter, competing in practically all important women's tourneys. She encountered the stiffest competition in the country. Her surprise victory over Betty Jameson, the national titlist, was of nationwide interest.

Miss Betty Voynick, a former resident here, is still a slick duckpin bowler. In the Irvin Women's Bowling league, the good looking Betty recently posted a 241 mark, setting up a new high. In the Greater Pittsburgh circuit, Miss Voynick is averaging close to 145 pins a game for the season.

Some diamond stuff — Several minutes after he agreed to autograph a Dodger contract, Dolf Camilli stepped into a monkey suit and hit the first ball over the double tier fence in Clearwater—a 410-foot feat. ...Whitlow Wyatt's knee muscles were in a plaster cast until December. The Dodger pitching flash is experiencing difficulty in loosening up.

Joe DiMaggio once hit safely in 61 straight games. He was then a member of the San Francisco Seals. ...."Lefty" Gomez is considered the best individual customer the Louisville bat concern has. The "Goof" has the knack of breaking the war clubs. Jimmy Foxx, on the other hand, is a poor customer. He broke two bats in 1939.

Factors Win At New Kensington

The Factor Variety girls basketball team journeyed to New Kensington last night and got revenge on the Red, White and Blue All-American girls team 23 to 19. The New Kensington girls defeated the locals here several weeks ago.

The game was played at the New Kensington high floor, before a packed house. The all-around playing of Helen Uham, Jean Cerrutti, Mary Mescall, Jenny Augustine and Helen Craft, featured for the Factors. The passing of the local girls drew applause from the crowd. Best for the losers was Jerry Conwell, Ann Factor, and Mele Factor Coach Joe Factor of the New Castle team is a brother of the New Kensington coach and manager.

First Baptists And Second U. P. Win Series Game

Annual Church League Floor Championship Series Starts At "Y" Floor

FIRST OF THREE GAME SERIES

The First Baptists and the Second U. P. won their respective Class AA and Class A series games at the "Y" last night in the New Castle Church basketball league championship battles. This was the first of a three-game series.

In the first game the Second U. P. team after leading at the end of the first half nosed out the Third U. P. team, 31 to 30. The McGary brothers, Newell and Theopolis were the scoring standouts.

Baptists Win Game

The First Baptist team dumped the Epworths, 36 to 24, in the second game, a Class AA battle. At the first half the Epworths led 18 to 17. The Baptists came to life in the third and fourth periods to outscore the tired Epworth team that had defeated the New Castle Boosters in the City-County floor tourney a half hour before taking on the Baptists.

Leading the scoring for the Baptists was Fraser and Francis Adams. Best for the Epworth team was O'Brien, Davis and "Capt" Kennedy.

'Renovizing' Here To Begin April 1

Civic Campaign, Intended To Aid Jobless, Will Run Two Months

New Castle's home and business "renovizing" campaign, through which civic leaders hope to create worthwhile jobs for the unemployed, gets off to a definite start April 1, it was announced today.

Executive Vice President Arthur H. Andrews of the Greater New Castle Association, announced the April-May work drive was thoroughly discussed at a rally of construction representatives and others in The Castleton last night.

A. W. Tindall, bank officer and chairman of the renovizing campaign, presided. Speakers included many civic leaders. They called for the citizenry's full support of this "make-work" effort.

Publicity and other promotion details were talked by the group, summoned by the GNCA committee which Tindall heads.

The improvement undertaking will be a follow-up to the city's Pioneer Week celebration.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

The YMCA of New Castle is in the midst of a membership campaign . . . now more people than you think are interested in the YMCA . . . they run from the small boy eight year old boy to the gentlemen of town eighty years of age. Now some of the older men might not want to use the "Y" themselves and so they buy memberships for boys who otherwise would not be able to enjoy the privileges of the "Y". If anyone is interested in buying a membership for some lad they can do same buy contacting the "Y" office or the many workers who are now busy campaigning for renewals and new memberships . . . their names appeared in last night's NEWS.

The "l. q." is coming right along and last night we had quite a talk . . . says she, "Things are looking much better this past week, my eyes seem to be more steady and things seem clearer . . . it's much easier to see who is picking me up and you had better keep your whiskers shaved because sometimes when you hold me up to "burp" they scratch me like everything. And 'pap' when you change my pants don't pull me around so hard, some day when I grow a little stronger I'm going to give you an awful kick in the stomach. But then maybe I had better be good because shortly after you make me comfortable I get to see my dear mommie . . . there is a "gal" for you . . . she sure makes me happy but sometimes I get too happy and eat too fast, then oh me do those hiccups shake me up. And 'pap' while we are talking about the family, where did you get that little dog, my but she's small, bet we will have fun in a few months rolling on the floor together. Oh, me but I'm getting sleepy, but I musn't go to sleep, might miss something interesting like when my grandmothers come and look to see if I'm growing and what color hair I really have . . . so far I have been able to fool them on the color of my hair, that oil the nurse puts on sure covers up the real color . . . and say 'pap' did you see how I grabbed at the money great grandad gave me last week, he said I just looked like you, how am I doing 'pap'? Well guess I might as well go to sleep, guess grandad and my only uncle won't show up tonight, wake me if anything exciting happens . . ."

Stock Market Higher Today

Some Gains Are Recorded For Third Successive Day In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 21.—The stock market today was higher for the third successive session, although light profit-taking cut initial gains running to a point and carried several issues under last night's closing levels.

Sales in the first hour today amounted to 170,000 shares, compared with 240,000 shares yesterday.

Aircraft manufacturing shares again were leaders on the upside. Boeing and Douglas each were up more than a point, while Consolidated, Lockheed, Glenn L. Martin, North American Aviation and United Aircraft gained large fractions.

Except for a half-point rise in Bethlehem, steels held close to last night's final quotations. Youngstown Sheet & Tube eased a fraction.

Loft ran up a point while Borden and National Distillers moved to new highs for the year. Western Union rose about a point.

Backward issues included Pullman, Chrysler, Air Reduction, Union Carbide and International Nickel. The last-named equalled its 1940 low.

Commodities, except for grains, added modestly to yesterday's wide advance. Wheat, which spurted 3 cents a bushel Wednesday, dipped fractionally. Bonds were dull.

Foreign markets held within narrow limits. Alien currencies were steady.

Carl Mathews Given Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21—Carl Mathews was pleasantly surprised last evening following prayer meeting in his home in North Sewickley, to find that the affair was also a surprise party marking his birthday anniversary.

Twenty five members of the Knox Presbyterian church participated with the evening being spent in an enjoyable manner with dart ball and other diversions after which the hostess served a refreshing lunch.

The guest of honor received a number of handsome gifts.

ORANGE LADIES

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21.—With president, Mrs. Irene Kirker, in charge, a meeting of the Orange Ladies Lodge will be held on Friday evening in the bank hall. A white elephant party will follow with refreshments to be served by Mrs. Mary Hudspath and her committee.

WURTEMBURG P. T. A.

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21.—The March meeting of the Wurtemburg Parent-Teacher association will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Wurtemburg school.

Mail Invitations For Elks Dance

Large Crowd Expected To Attend Annual Easter Ball On March 29

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21.—Arrangements were carried along a step farther yesterday for the 21st annual Elks' Easter Charity ball, with the announcement that the invitations were in the mail. Every list that was available was used by the chairman, William Ifft in order to insure every one of an opportunity of attending. The invitations are unique in makeup and wording and the art work adds much to the clever folder.

One more meeting of the general committee is all that will be necessary to round out the many and varied details in connection with this yearly affair. General Chairman Gray Gordon announced last evening that by the reports he is receiving the dance this year will be one of the best in the series of which this is the 21st.

The dance will be held in the club's spacious ball room, Friday evening, March 29, with dancing from 10 until 2. Decorations for the affair will be started next Monday and are expected to add to the already beautiful ballroom. Mr. Ifft was assisted as invitation chairman by Richard Warren, Warren Thorpe and Harold Hultz.

Plan Playground Work For Summer

Commission Meets Tuesday Night To Consider Activities Of Year

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21—The Ellwood City Playground Commission met Tuesday night in the board of education rooms in the Lincoln high school.

Those attending were President Dr. H. E. Helling, Tom Sleighter, Paul Luther, Secretary and Treasurer Blaine Hancher and Playgrounds Supervisor Denny Schill.

Miss Louise Barton, a member of the commission, who held a one-year term and whose commission expires, has requested that her assignment not be renewed as she will be out of the city for the summer.

The commission will request Burgess McGlincey to appoint a new member to the commission as soon as possible.

The commission agreed to meet the first Monday of each month from now on throughout the summer months.

A special meeting with the borough council recreation committee, of which Robert Curry is chairman, will be arranged for the April 1st meeting. This meeting will be held to outline the summer recreational program and also bring about a working understanding of the two bodies.

New apparatus for the various grounds was also discussed at last night's meeting and will receive final approval at next month's meeting.

Upon recommendation of Playgrounds Supervisor Denny Schill, the commission will look for a new site for the fourth ward playground. The present site in the rear of the north side school does not contain any shade trees for the smaller children to sit and rest in the mid-day sun. The new site will be selected with the idea of putting up apparatus for the smaller children and with game activities and handicraft for the older children. Apparatus will also be added to the west end and Fullmer field playgrounds.

Mrs. Edward Butler Is Hostess To Class

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21—Mrs. Edward Butler pleasantly entertained members of the Martha Cosby class of the First U. P. church for the March meeting last evening at her home, in Wayne avenue. Twenty-four members participated.

Devotions were led by Mrs. James McCowin. During the meeting, Miss Janice Stroup was appointed flower chairman.

A variety of entertaining games and contests occupied the social hours in a merry manner with nice prizes going to the winner. Mrs. McCowin and Mrs. Merle Bowen were associate hostesses and they aided Mrs. Butler in serving a refreshing lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 17.

Three Hundred Attend Service

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21 — More than three hundred people attended the Passion week sunrise services held this morning in the First Methodist church under the auspices of the Young People's Council.

Opening devotions were jointly led by Harold Hollerman and Miss Alice Shirley with Rev. A. M. Stevenson, of the First Presbyterian church, bringing a fitting message on "Preparing Yourself For the Lord's Supper."

On Friday morning, Rev. Herman Patton, of the First Christian church will speak with Kathryn Nicklas and Stanley Wilson to be the leaders.

ENTRE NOUS CLUB AT ROCKDALE HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21.—Mrs. Sadie McMurdo welcomed members of the Entre Nous club to her home, in Rockdale, last evening, for tre bi-weekly meeting.

The hours were devoted to playing bingo with the attractive awards going to Mrs. Howard Fleeger and Mrs. Lewis Young. The hostess' daughter, Mrs. James Maxwell, aided her in serving a dainty lunch.

On Wednesday, April 3, another meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leslie Mortensen, 411 Haig street, Ewing Park.

Cold Finish Wins Initial Game In Play-off Series

Exciting Game With Cold Draw Ends With 38 To 36 Score; Next Game Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, March 21.—With the lead changing hands more times than a white elephant bridge prize, the Cold Finish cagers captured the first victory of the post-season playoff services for the Shelby Basketball League 1939-40 title by nosing out the Cold Draw 38 to 36 before a large crowd of fans last night at the Shelby court.

It was a hectic contest with the lead seldom ranging more than two points and the score being deadlocked frequently.

Again Alex Robuck, Cold Finish sharpshooting forward, sparked the winners with five field goals and four free throws for the game's scoring honors with five of his points being counted in the thrilling last period in which the winners outscored the losers 13 to 11.

Beginning the telling period, the score was deadlocked at 25-all. Midway in the final canto, the Cold Draw held a 34 to 28 lead but three rapid baskets by Alex Robuck, Hauserman and Funari renewed the tie. With three minutes remaining Tammaro sank a two pointed from long range and Miller added another with a pivot shot to make the count 38 to 34 and a fielder from midcourt by Ferrucci ended the scoring.

The next game between the two teams in the best two out of three series will be staged Saturday night. The Ellwood Sons of Legion will play the New Brighton Sons of Legion in the prelim to begin at 7:30 p. m.

Last night the Moose Juniors, champions of the Shelby Junior League, easily defeated the Clover Farm Juniors 37 to 18. Shardone was high scorer for the winners with 19 points.

Flood Waters Are Now Subsiding At Parker's Landing

Fear New Freeze May Force Waters Back Up Into Town Again, However

(International News Service)

PARKERS LANDING, Pa., March 21.—Flood waters in the Parkers Landing district subsided during the night, but fears were expressed early today that a new freeze might force the river up again and bring further inundation of lowland areas.

An ice gorge on the Allegheny dammed still water back into this little community's business section, flooding River avenue under six inches to three feet of water. Industrial operations were paralyzed and the town's water plant was inundated, forcing residents to depend on springs.

Cold weather brought a new freeze during the early morning hours, a resident reported. He said they expected higher water during the day.

The ice pack has held on the Allegheny since mid-winter. United States Engineer Edward F. Cooley said he believed it would require a 28-foot level—eight feet above flood stage here—to crack the five-mile long gorge.

In Pittsburgh, 60 miles downstream, the weather bureau reported the river stage at 17 feet—eight feet below flood stage, and no danger in sight.

Almost a score of buildings in the business area were affected by the high water yesterday, which reached a level of 25½ feet.

State May Lose Nine C.C.C. Camps

Congress Must Boost Estimates For Work If Camps Are Not To Be Closed

By ARTHUR C. WIMER (Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21—Pennsylvania will lose at least nine of its CCC camps the last of next June unless Congress boosts the budget estimates for the conservation program.

The Keystone State now has 49 camps. Under a retrenchment program prepared by CCC headquarters and scheduled to become effective July 1, this total will be slashed to 40. This means a reduction of Pennsylvania enrollment in the CCC as well as in the number of camps.

There is some slight possibility Congress will appropriate more money than called for in the 1941 budget and thereby avoid any CCC closings. This, however, is not considered likely by observers.

Reports President's Son Now Admits He Will Mary Nurse

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 21—Jimmy Roosevelt, the president's son, has admitted he will marry his former nurse, Romelle Schneider, next March when a final divorce decree is given his wife, Mrs. Betsey Cushing Roosevelt, the New York Mirror said today in an exclusive story.

One of its reporters asked young Roosevelt if he would "wait the year out" before marrying Miss Schneider and it quoted him as replying.

"I will have to do that, I guess."

To a suggestion that the marriage could be accomplished quicker under Mexican law or in another state, the Mirror quoted Jimmy as stating:

"I am not a good juggler."
